Kirby Fund Tops $2,000 Expected to Go Higher

The fund to aid the young widow and four children of Saanich Const. Robert Kirby, who was shot to death Sunday, skyrocketed yesterday.

The fund passed the $2,000 mark by last night and is expected to go still higher before it is ended. As a member of Saanich police department, Const. Kirby was covered by a $5,000 insurance policy. (See also Page 13.)

'MORE LIKE A JAIL' MENTAL HOME LABEL

Treatment Plan Probe Demanded

Colquitz mental hospital is "more jail than institution," organizer of a group of women volunteers, who visit inmates weekly, charged here last night as a call was raised to investigate the institution's entire treatment program—not just security measures.

Mrs. Edith Frankham said that during her weekly visits in the past six months she found no evidence of a treatment program at Colquitz where an inmate escaped Sunday touching off a gun battle in which a policeman died and a guard was wounded. (See also Page 13.)

STEPPED DOWN

Head of the volunteer visitors program, which she started in October, she recently stepped down as president of the Victoria branch, Canadian Mental Health Association, after two years.

Her comments were made following a statement in Vancouver by J. D. Ward, executive secretary of the B.C. division, Canadian Mental Health Association, who said, "It's time we decided whether Colquitz is a hospital or a jail."

EXTEND STUDY

Mr. Ward called on authorities investigating shooting Sunday of Saanich police Const. Ronald Kirby by an inmate to extend their study to institution's entire treatment program — not just security measures.

"There isn't any treatment program, as far as I can ascertain," said Mrs. Frankham.

She said the mental hospital is located in an "old jail" building which has been pressed into service for inmates who "haven't responded to treatment in centres on the mainland."

SIX TO EIGHT

She said six to eight women volunteers go out to Colquitz every week to play cards and bingo with inmates. The women bring cakes and special treats for the occasions.

Despite some "trepidation and uneasiness" on the part of the volunteers at first, and the suspicious attitude adopted by most inmates, the program has worked out "very well," said Mrs. Frankham.

ACCEPTED

"It took a while," she said, "but we have been accepted as friends who are there because we want to come."

Mr. Ward said: "We are only asking for trouble when we maintain institutions like Colquitz and call them hospitals.

"The condition of patients who enter this barren setting —with its cells and its windows 14 feet above the floor —is more likely to grow worse than improve."

ONLY $28

He said only $28 per patient was spent for medical care in the entire year ending March 31, 1959. This compared with Essondale and Crease Clinic, also provincially-operated, which had respective totals of $225 and $531 per patient year.

Const. Kirby was stopped in his tracks by a .22 calibre rifle bullet through the heart as he pursued the inmate. Raymond Harold, in bushland some distance from the institution.

Harold also wounded guard Frank Goad in the shoulder before himself being felled by a police bullet in the leg.

MUCH DEEPER

Mr. Ward said the trouble at Colquitz "goes much deeper" than Saanich police chief W. A. Pearson indicated when he charged laxity in security at the institution.

"There's no point in merely blaming the government," he said.

"It has been proven time and again that bars are not needed at mental hospitals where there is sufficient staff and an effective treatment program."

He said incidents like the one Sunday are likely to recur as long as hospitals like Colquitz continue to exist, and said a study now under way would be a waste of time unless the entire treatment program is examined by competent people.

Mrs. Frankham said she agreed fully with the statements by Mr. Ward. But she added the public must accept part of the blame. "The public is apathetic, unaware, disinterested, and as long as the majority of people remain in that state patients will be put in places like Colquitz," she said.

BEST CLOTHES

Inmates at Colquitz have blossomed out in their best clothes, clean-shaven, and wearing ties for the weekly visits by volunteers. Most play cards and bingo with "gusto and enthusiasm" after losing their initial suspicions.

Mrs. Frankham said Harold was "always cheerful, with a smile and a big hello" when the visitors came, and it was a shock to those who knew and liked him to read of Sunday's incident.

Korea to Vote Before Aug. 1

SEOUL (AP)—Syngman Rhee, founder of the Republic of Korea, resigned as president today after six weeks of violent public demonstrations against his autocratic rule.

* * *

Foreign Minister Huh Chung, senior member of the government, announced after a two-hour conference with the 85-year-old president that Rhee had sent his formal resignation to the national assembly.

PROMPT ACTION

The assembly was expected to accept it promptly.

Rhee ended his 12 years of power after weeks of mounting violence arising from charges of fraud in the March 15 presidential elections.

CARETAKER

After the resignation is accepted, a caretaker government will take over until elections for president, vice-president and national assembly can be held within three months, before Aug. 1.

Huh, as ranking member of the cabinet, will head the caretaker regime.

Huh is a 62-year-old independent and former acting premier.

SENIOR MAN

Rhee named him senior man in a new cabinet this week after a cabinet from the president's Liberal party resigned. Vice-President John Chang, leader of the anti-Rhee Democratic party, resigned last week. He is considered a likely candidate for the presidency.

HUGE RIOTS

To end the huge, anti-government demonstrations in which at least 145 persons had died in the last week, Rhee Tuesday ordered new elections, told vice-president Lee Ki-poong to give up all his public posts and said he would himself resign if the people wanted him to.

TUMULTUOUS

A tumultuous 26 hours of steady rioting and demonstrations ended at curfew time Tuesday after more than 100,000 Koreans crowded Seoul streets, celebrating Rhee's announcement.

Today the city of 2,000,000 persons resumed something of a normal appearance.

CO-OPERATING

Leaders of the historic upheaval were co-operating with the South Korean Army to bring order back to the troubled nation.

Students replaced Rhee's hated national police in directing traffic in much of Seoul.

14 Nations Rebuke Korea

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Representatives of 14 nations that fought in Korea under the UN flag called Tuesday for early action to "permit the orderly functioning of democratic government" in South Korea.

A statement issued after a 90-minute meeting of the representatives at the State Department came in the wake of U.S. appeals to Syngman Rhee to "redress the grievances of the Korean people" against his government.

South Africa boycotted the conference. South Korea was not invited.

All the diplomats were said to have been aware of the danger that North Korea might use the anti-Rhee riots as an opportunity for a new attack on South Korea.

Rhee Envoy Forced Out In Washington

WASHINGTON (UPI)—South Korea's ambassador You Chang Yang resigned Tuesday shortly after anti-Rhee elements in Washington's Korean colony threatened to seize the embassy with the aid of Korean military trainees here.

The ambassador acknowledged he received a 24-hour ultimatum to quit or be ousted. It came from Koh Byong-Choll, a long-time leader here of forces opposing Syngman Rhee.

Rebrin Released On $200 Bond

VANCOUVER (CP)—Irene Rebrin, held for two weeks in immigration department quarters under order of deportation, was freed Tuesday for one week on bond of $200. (See also Page 2.)

She must appear in court next Tuesday when Mr. Justice T. G. Norris will bring in his decision on her application for complete release from the department's custody and for an order to have her immigration hearings reviewed by the courts.

She left the courthouse after 8 p.m. Tuesday, more than 3½ hours after the third and final day of court hearings had been adjourned.

Formal signing of the authorization for her release was made in front of the courthouse where Mr. Justice Norris sat in his car, counsel and Miss Rebrin huddled around the car window.

The justice reserved decision on the applications before him but issued a writ of habeas corpus which brings Miss Rebrin under his jurisdiction and makes possible her release on bond.

Bond was set at $200 and it was posted in cash shortly before 8 p.m.

Multi-Million Deal

M. & B. Buys Roofing Firm

MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River Ltd. announced yesterday it has purchased 92 per cent of the stock of Sidney Roofing and Paper Company Ltd. in a deal believed to involve more than $18,000,000.

Sidney Roofing, previously owned by Canadian financier Garfield Weston through the E. B. Eddy Company, has total assets of more than $17,000,000.

Observers believe the change in ownership may bring revitalization to Sidney Roofing's Victoria plant which now employs 40 men where it once had 200.

A spokesman for the new owners could not say last night whether the deal would end the gradual transfer of production facilities from Victoria to Burnaby.

Polio Strikes In Nanaimo

Mrs. Pearl Hall of Nanaimo, suffering paralytic polio, is in fair condition in a respirator at Royal Jubilee Hospital. She was admitted to hospital yesterday and is the fourth polio case this year on Vancouver Island and is believed to be the 36th case reported so far in B.C.

Summit May See Nixon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice-President Richard M. Nixon will become the American representative at next month's Paris summit conference if "domestic requirements" force President Eisenhower to return home, the White House said yesterday.

Nixon's presence at the meeting with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev and other world leaders could prove to be a big boost or a big setback to his presidential election chances, depending on the outcome of the summit meeting.

Key congressional Democrats promptly raised the question of the effects of the White House announcement on the political situation.

The White House said in a brief statement that Eisenhower was scheduled to visit Portugal seven days after the summit meeting opens May 16 if the meeting is still under way after his two-day visit, he may return to Paris or be succeeded there by Nixon if forced to return to the United States by "domestic requirements."

Iceland 'Fish War' Will Begin Again

GRIMSBY, England (Reuters) — Trawlermen at this English east coast port prepared Tuesday night for a resumption of the "fish war" with Iceland, following the failure of the Law of the Sea Conference at Geneva. (See Page 5.)

Captain Dennis Welch, president of the Grimsby Trawler Officers' Guild, said:

"This is absolute deadlock. I understand that the British delegation has said that we shall revert to the old four-mile fishing limit off Iceland with the three-mile territorial limit.

"But as the disputed 12-mile limit now is law in Iceland, it means that fishing will go on with naval vessels protecting our ships."

Election Called

Facing first election since his Conservatives swept a long-time Liberal government out of office 3½ years ago, Premier Robert Stanfield of Nova Scotia yesterday set a provincial vote for June 7. Tories hold 24 of the 43 legislature seats, Liberals 18 and CCF one.

Mayor's 'Liar' Crack Costs Him $7,500

MEDICINE HAT (CP) — Mayor Harry Veiner was found guilty Tuesday of defamation of character and ordered to pay damages of $7,500 to Calgary lawyer Melvin Shannon.

The case was heard by Mr. Justice J. V. Milvain of Calgary.

Mr. Shannon's suit followed remarks made by Mayor Veiner at a city council meeting Dec. 7, 1959.

Mr. Justict Milvain said the mayor's action was "most unbecoming and a disgrace to the conduct of a public gathering where democracy is prided."

He added:

"I am completely satisfied that mayor Veiner called Mr. Shannon . . . a damn liar . . . and those remarks are damaging to the character of the defendant."

He said more damages would have been awarded had Mr. Shannon asked for more.

Reeve Silences Road Department

NORTH VANCOUVER (CP) —Reeve Murdo Frazer of North Vancouver district has refused B.C. authorities permission to build the Upper Levels Highway outside times set in the municipality's anti-noise bylaw.

The bylaw prohibits disturbing residents by construction work or use of machinery between 8 p.m. and 7 a.m.

The highways department asked the municipality for work after 8 p.m. to allow two eight-hour shifts because construction is several months behind schedule.

Reeve Frazer replied: "The anti-noise bylaw is the law of the municipality and it will stand."

ALL ABOARD

With G. E. Mortimore

"THE servants are impossible," a South African lady wrote to her sister in Canada.

"We have given up trying to handle them, and have moved to an apartment.

"I wash my own dishes now. I find that X . . . soap is very good." (She named a product that has been a household word on this continent for 25 years.)

"You should try X . . . soap," the South African lady uregd.

"Imagine, telling me about soap," said the sister in Canada. "Doesn't she know we use it?"

"No," I pointed out. "It's new to her. She's discovering these things for the first time."

Having learned that trying to control servants from a restive race is hard work, she has given up the attempt. Now she does chores herself.

The letter from the lady in South Africa mentioned nothing about the complexities of politics or race relations. She isn't interested in such things.

She is exploring new domestic country, adventuring through detergent and shortening land.

What happens in the jails and streets of South Africa is important. But those aren't the only places where history is made. A lot of history is made in the kitchen.

Mariners are supposed to help each other. But H. Bryn-Jones, 10445 All Bay Road, reports that some people in boats haven't heard of that rule.

"Last Thursday . . . my wife was out fishing alone in a 15-foot boat about two miles from the marina north of Sidney. There was one other vessel there—a quite well-known cruiser—from which a man and his family were fishing.

"My wife's boat suffered a mechanical breakdown and it must have been clear to the operator of the boat that she was faced with the task of rowing a very heavy boat a distance of up to two miles.

"She actually rowed close to the cruiser, but its operator did not offer the least suggestion of assistance. It could almost be said that he turned his head the other way and continued to fish . . .

"Ironically enough, my wife has rendered assistance to several small boats in the area, but on the first occasion that she would have liked help the only boat in the vicinity was operated by a type which, fortunately is rarely met among those who go to sea in boats . . .

"It was dark when my wife reached the marina."

U.S. Target of Japan Riot

TOKYO (UPI) — Japanese riot police Tuesday beat off with clubs screeching hordes of anti-American students who tried to storm parliament in the climax of a protest demonstration against the U.S.-Japan security treaty.

Screaming "Be like Korean students," a mob of about 9,000 demonstrators hurled themselves against a barricade of armored trucks and other vehicles in front of the Diet building defended by 8,000 policemen.

About 350 students and 32 policemen were reported injured in the three hours of fighting. An official police report said 23 persons were injured seriously.

The demonstration was spearheaded by the extreme leftist wing of the Federation of Students' Self-Government Associations (Zengakuren), whose leaders have threatened to stone President Eisenhower on his visit to Japan in June.

Police arrested 18 leaders of the mob, which included a sizable number of co-eds.

Rebrin Case Judge Hits 'Disreputable Practice'

VANCOUVER (CP) — Mr. Justice T. G. Norris suggested Tuesday the government may be circumventing the statutes in passing orders-in-council to permit waiving of the provisions of the Immigration Act in special immigration cases.

The justice, hearing an application to quash a deportation order against Irene Rebrin and to have her released, made the comment after immigration department counsel had stated the Immigration Act contains no provision for the immigration minister to waive the act's provisions.

Counsel Harvey Grey, asked by the justice if the act granted the minister such powers or if it granted the government power to pass orders-in-council giving the minister those powers, had said that under the act the minister has no such power.

He said that under section 61 of the act the governor-in-council had wide scope and power to pass orders connected with carrying out the provisions and regulations of the act.

Mr. Justice Norris said these powers, as he read the act, were not broad enough to permit an order-in-council empowering waiver of the act.

He said it may be that this practice has been carried out so often without opposition that governments — and he stressed he was not criticizing any one government—had decided it was quite acceptable.

"This is an instance of what we're so often crying out against—an attempt to circumvent the statutes of parliament," he said.

Mr. Grey said that the practice is a long-established one.

'Too Many' Pawn Frauds

Police Magistrate D. G. Ashby said yesterday that there is a growing trend for people in straitened circumstances to obtain loans upon collateral to which they do not hold title.

Rendering judgment in a case involving the pawning of a power saw which had not been fully paid for, Magistrate Ashby said, "this is wrong, and there is too much of it going on today."

He said that obtaining money in this manner was both illegal and dishonest, regardless of the good intentions of the person who pawns the property to recover it later.

Upon conviction, he sentenced Joseph Edward Brindley-Scraggs, Sooke, to six months' suspended sentence and bound him over to keep the peace.

He told Brindley-Scraggs, a former RAF air gunner, to be more "straightforward" in his business dealings.

Brindley-Scraggs was charged by Saanich police with intent to defraud in connection with pawning a power saw which he had agreed to purchase from Alf Becker, 2981 Tillicum.

A 19-year-old youth was given a one-year suspended sentence and ordered to post a $500 bond to keep the peace when he pleaded guilty in Saanich police court to theft and burglary.

John York, 2620 Killarney, was charged in connection with the March 8 break-in of Palmer's Grocery and Confectionery, 3970 Braefoot.

He was the last of nine youths charged in local police courts in connection with a rash of burglaries and car thefts last month.

Police said that York and two other youths split up some $12 worth of cigarets taken from the grocery store.

Rotarians Elect New Leader As Successful Meeting Ends

The 46th annual Rotary district 502 convention ended its successful three-day sessions here yesterday, drawing close to 800 delegates and guests.

Many of the delegates—representing 42 Rotary clubs on Vancouver Island and in western Washington—took advantage of fine weather for golfing, shopping and sightseeing after convention sessions ended at 2.30 p.m. yesterday.

Among final official acts of the convention was election of Virgil R. Lee of Chehalis, Wash., as district governor-elect. He will take office July 1.

Retiring district governor Arthur H. Wickens of Tacoma was named district representative on the legislation committee to meet in Miami next month during the Rotary International convention.

Duke or Mr.?

Tony 'Not Keen' On Having Title

LONDON (CP)—With 10 days to go before the Royal wedding, there still is the big question of whether Antony Armstrong-Jones will receive a title.

No one, with the possible exception of Royalty itself, seems to know any more about the subject that when the engagement was first announced two months ago. At that time it was anybody's guess whether Armstrong-Jones would become a duke, an earl, a knight, or remain plain mister.

The Associated Press on Monday quoted "a friend of the Royal family" as saying that "unless plans have changed very recently, Mr. Armstrong-Jones will be elevated to the peerage and made an earl."

Today, the Daily Mail says "those in the know" think Armstrong-Jones will stay as he is, but Princess Margaret will be made a duchess so their children will carry a title.

Judging by letters to newspapers Britons would like to see their princess and her husband remain Mr. and Mrs.

The Daily Mail suggests a major factor may be the fact that Armstrong-Jones himself "is not particularly keen" on having a title.

Control of Missiles Bought from U.S. Won by Britain

LONDON (CP)—Prime minister Macmillan said Tuesday the U.S. has offered to help Britain maintain an independent nuclear deterrent.

He told the House of Commons that Washington is willing to sell Skybolt missiles to Britain under terms which would give British forces operational control over these weapons.

DEBATE NEAR

His statement came 24 hours before the opening of a parliamentary debate on Britain's nuclear deterrent policies.

Macmillan made it clear the Skybolts would not be governed by the joint British-U.S. control system which prevails now with the fixed site Thor missiles located on British soil.

GENERAL ONES

The only conditions the United States would attach, he said, are "the general ones governing the sale of arms."

While the debate is on a Labor censure motion against the government's refusal to establish a committee of inquiry into cancellation of the Blue Streak missile, it's almost certain to embrace the burning question of over-all defence policy.

On this point both parties—especially Labor—have trouble getting agreement within their own ranks.

This is believed the main reason why the Labor motion provides for only a 3½-hour debate, barely enough time for four speakers, two on each side.

'American-Owned'

B.C. Telephone Bill Passes

OTTAWA (CP)—A Liberal MP contended Tuesday Parliament is giving an American-owned company power to buy out any of the 4,500 telephone companies in Canada.

George McIlraith, Ottawa West, raised his objection before the Commons passed a private bill amending the charter of the British Columbia Telephone Company.

Douglas Jung (PC, Vancouver) Centre), sponsor of the amending bill, explained the change would allow the company to acquire the Northwest Telephone Company. He said British Columbia Telephone plans to expand its operations in the Yukon and Alaska.

But Mr. McIlraith contended after reading the company's original charter—"a rather confusing document" which limits its operations to B.C.—it appeared to him that, with the amendment, it could spread its activities to any part of Canada.

AMERICAN-OWNED

Mr. McIlraith said B.C. Telephone is an American-owned company and he questioned the "wisdom" of Parliament awarding it such power, especially after considering what the situation in the communications field could become in wartime.

Ex-Cabinet Minister 80 Years Old Today

George S. Pearson, 2100 Cadboro Bay Road, who held cabinet portfolios under three B.C. premiers in his 22 years as an MLA, is 80 today.

He plans to spend the day quietly at home with his daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Alexander of Nanaimo, and he will be in touch with his other daughter, Mrs. J. Innis Macdougall of Kamloops.

Born in Bromley, Staffordshire, England, April 27, 1880, he came to Nanaimo with his parents at age nine and attended Nanaimo public and high schools. He later entered the wholesale grocery business and became a partner in the firm of Malkin and Pearson.

In 1928 Liberals chose him as their candidate and he was elected to the provincial legislature as MLA for Nanaimo-Alberni.

He served in all under three premiers—Duff Pattullo, John Hart and Byron Johnson—and won six general elections in Nanaimo in 1928, 1933, 1941, 1945, 1947 and 1949.

Until ill health forced his retirement in May, 1950, Mr. Pearson through the years filled posts of minister of mines and labor, commissioner of fisheries, minister of railways, provincial secretary, minister of health and welfare.

Africa Treason Trial Stumbles to a Halt

PRETORIA, South Africa (Reuters)—Police raided more Negro townships Tuesday while the four-year-old mass treason trial stumbled to a halt after defendants withdrew their lawyers.

In Parliament Justice Minister Francois Erasmus said emergency regulations — imposed when racial violence followed police killing of 67 Negroes at Sharpeville March 21—will remain as long as "speedy action" is necessary.

VAGRANTS

The minister said the regulations are being used to round up large numbers of "vagrant" Negroes.

The total of Negro arrests since Sharpeville now stands at more than 3,200.

Two hundred police raided Nyanga as troops formed a cordon around the township, preventing anyone from entering or leaving. Fifty-seven persons were arrested.

Police charged 37 Negroes in Johannesburg.

158 ARRESTED

Police arrested 158 Negroes Monday night in the Orange Free State gold fields.

In Pretoria the mass treason trial took a new turn when the defendants told their lawyers to withdraw from the case after the court overruled protests that the current emergency laws might endanger the freedom of defence witnesses.

Originally 156 persons were accused four years ago when the trial began. Thirty are still on trial, although one defendant disappeared April 1.

'Good Riddance' To South Africa

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya (Reuters) — The Malayan Parliament enthusiastically approved Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman's intention Tuesday to raise the South African question at next month's Commonwealth prime ministers conference in London.

The Tunko told the lower house: "If South Africa chooses to get out of the Commonwealth as a result of my actions, then I say 'Good riddance.'"

South Africa had no right to remain in the Commonwealth, he said.

Science Now Shrinks Piles Without Pain Or Discomfort

Finds Healing Substance That Relieves Pain And Itching As It Shrinks Hemorrhoids

Toronto, Ont. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain and itching. Thousands have been relieved with this inexpensive substance right in the privacy of their own home without any discomfort or inconvenience.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was promptly relieved. And while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of even 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) — the discovery of a famous scientific institute. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Dear Sir:
A Utilization Department Serviceman carries a certain volume of spare parts, some of which are bulky, others very small. Since the majority of the servicesman's work is in the dense populated areas of the city, his means of transportation must provide for good manouverability. The Bedford Van, being small, compact and manouverable without being unwieldy, is ideal for a serviceman's work. Its low initial purchase cost, good operating cost and reduced garaging facility requirements are other factors which influenced management in selecting the Bedford Van for our service work.
Yours very truly,

Prospective Developments

TWO prospective developments affecting the centre of the city in its business life are coming to the fore. Within the last twelve months the Bank of Commerce and the Canada Permanent Mortgage Corporation in separate deals have acquired the frontage of the former Balmoral Block on the east side of Dougles between Fort and View Streets. The latter announced its purchase of the southern portion last week. Acquisition of the northern part of the block was effected by the bank last year. It will be of great importance to the business section of the community how this considerable frontage of street-level retail space is to be developed.

One has only to stand at the intersection of Douglas and Yates Streets, where banks occupy three of the four corners, to understand the "islands" in the retail section of a community which automatically result from the construction of offices at the street level. Such accommodation may be as important to such institutions as to retail businesses, but offices of themselves do not concentrate shopping centres in the heart a city, and sometimes can have quite the opposite effect. The Balmoral frontage is at the core of the city centre, beside the proposed site of the new shopping mall. Its future development therefore will remain of the utmost importance. One would not like to see the retail area available circumscribed further

The second development, in the prospect stage as yet, is the suggestion that the Rock Bay mud flats be reclaimed from the waters of the harbor and made usable land. A contiguous strip of some seven acres is owned by the Crowe-Gonnason Lumber Company, and the suggestion is being made on behalf of that firm to the city council. For a number of reasons the idea is a challenging one. The time has probably passed when the mud flats could have been dredged and made part of the wharfage of the harbor. As reclaimed land, some four acres in extent, the area would provide solid ground for roads, buildings and general industrial or other commercial use. It would also eliminate the unhealthy state of the mud flats, which for years have been absorbing effluent from the waters of the Gorge.

Here in two instances is distinct opportunity for considering reconstitution of close-in and vitally important sections of the community, in keeping with the times.

This Is the Mecca

THE polemics may be expended about old world charm or new world lights, whether Victoria should keep up to date or lapse into bygone ways, but one thing is certain: this is a cosmopolitan city. It may lack the surge and impetus of cities like Vancouver but its diversity of character is no less.

The postwar era has changed the citizenry as well as the look of streets and buildings. Where once mainly one tongue held sway in the downtown area now half-a-dozen or more languages may be heard. Newcomers from Europe have added to the richness of the local scene, and introduced new ventures and business skills. The Prairies have poured people into Victoria by the thousands.

Victoria is what one might call a Mecca, a place favored because of its climate and other attributes. People will always come here because it is a nice place in which to live, and proof of that is in the endless spread of new subdivisions as more and more people seek to settle themselves in homes.

Another hint of the varied appeal of the Victoria area was contained in the roster of the local Red Chevrons when they met in reunion last week. The Red Chevrons are the men of the First World War who saw active service in France in the 1914-15 period. Their numbers dwindle with the passing years, their hair grows thin and their steps less lively, but the spirit of a great remembrance keeps them going. They are hardy veterans with a proud record.

And, in Victoria, they sound the roll of units scattered all over the country. Not fewer than 21 separate formations of the 1914-1918 conflict were counted as 60 old-timers sat down to dinner. They constituted an army in miniature, with infantry, cavalry, engineers, army service and medical corps men, and nurses too, being represented.

In their war days these veterans joined up in Toronto, in Winnipeg, in Calgary, Vancouver, Victoria and a dozen other places. Now they fade away, as all old soldiers do, in Victoria, adding their quota to the varied geographic and ethnic influences that encompass this area.

Privilege Abused

WHEN permission was given — with some reluctance and misgiving — for speedboats and water skiers to share use of Elk Lake with swimmers, it was on the distinct understanding that if there were any trouble from boaters the privilege would be withdrawn. Apparently the organized boating enthusiasts are encountering some difficulty in fulfilling the terms of the agreement, not through any misbehavior on the part of their own members but due to noncompliance by "maverick" owners of fast boats.

Because of this a feeler suggestion has been put out that a police boat should be stationed on the lake to enforce discipline. That was not included in the conditions of the original concession granted by Saanich council, which made it clear that it was up to the boating and skiing enthusiasts to police themselves and that if the plan failed a ban would be put on the entire lake for motor-driven boats. There is no obligation whatever on the part of the municipality to put its taxpayers to the expense of operating a police boat for the special benefit of a handful of sportsmen.

The boaters' club has conscientiously kept its bargain and endeavored to persuade others to live up to it. In the circumstances it is unfortunate that this difficulty should be created by others; but it is trouble which could have been foreseen with near certainty. With the best will in the world it is pretty well impossible for a band of civilians lacking official status to prevent irresponsible elements from spoiling the fun. The mistake appears to have been in assuming that a small lake could be shared in safety by swimmers and high-speed boats. If there is any further trouble after the warning which has been given, the council should not hesitate to cancel the privilege.

Reprisals Considered

By WILTON WYNN
Associated Press Correspondent

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—All over the Arab world fellow-travelling agitators are working full steam for an Arab boycott of United States ships because seamen and longshoremen in New York are picketing an Egyptian freighter.

The boycott, if it develops, could drive a new wedge between the U.S. and Arab countries and give the Communists a new lease on life in the Middle East.

President Nasser, it is reported, does not welcome a new crisis with the U.S., and it is possible Arab picketing would take a merely symbolic form.

As a protest against Arab blacklisting of American ships which deal with Israel, seamen and dockers in New York have prevented the Egyptian freighter Cleopatra from unloading for 11 days. They claim the Arab boycott has cost them jobs.

The Arab Labor Federation says it will start counter-action against all American ships unless picketing of the Cleopatra stops by Saturday. Workers in some Syrian ports already have started reprisals.

The New York incident is not likely to cause the Arabs to drop their boycott of ships that carry goods to and from Israel. But it could have severe consequences.

For instance, Suez Canal workers have threatened to join the Arab boycott if it comes off. Some labor leaders are agitating for a total boycott of all American products and airlines, as well as shipping companies.

If workers refuse to load and unload American ships in Egyptian and Syrian ports it could mean a virtual end to American economic aid to the United Arab Republic. Most American surplus commodities and equipment come here on American ships.

A boycott in other Arab ports might have a similar effect on the aid program in other countries.

Thinking Aloud

". . . of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages and kings."

By TOM TAYLOR

THERE have been people who suggest that to reorient ourselves, and especially the up-and-coming generation, we should start afresh by ignoring the past as though it had never happened.

Take a clean slate and begin from scratch, as it were.

You can't do that, of course; the present is what the past helped to make it and never the twain shall be separated. Anyway, it would be unflattering to think that by adopting such a premise people perhaps 100 years hence would repudiate our achievements as of no account.

Happening we escape the nuclear menace what we do today will be studied by posterity just as we ponder our forebears. The skein of history never breaks.

An eastern paper, the St. John's Telegram, touches on this subject by citing the "riddle of the Sphinx." as a piece of silly nonsense. It quotes a debunker as calling it a "gigantic toy."

* * *

It is a toy that has intrigued the human world, or a large part of it at least, for many moons however. That is good for man. It makes him reflect and cast his mind to earlier eras. We will do well if we erect a monument of any kind that people will gaze at, in wonder or disillusionment — it doesn't matter which—a few thousands years hence.

When yours truly saw the Giza Sphinx in the long ago he was young and innocent, which doubtless is why a guide tried to foist upon him a piece of alabaster alleged to be chipped from the temple underneath. What was remarkable enough however, even for 1960, was the exactitude with which huge blocks of stone had been placed one above the other without benefit of modern know-how.

The Sphinx belongs to the Near-East or Middle-East area which the ancients believed, not far wrongly, as being the cradle of the human race. That in itself is one reason why the past keeps intruding on the present.

We would have to follow the thesis of the UBC professor who derided books and destroy all semblance of the printed word to escape it.

Even Mr. Khrushchev, I notice, surely an exponent of the present era as if ever there was one, pays heed to days of yore. He dips back into the past too.

* * *

In the Winnipeg Free Press a writer, commenting on the exuberance of Mr. Khrushchev's verbosity, tells how the Soviet premier enthralls his Russian audiences by his travel lectures when he gets home.

Apart from his beatitudes about summit meetings and Soviet grandeur, which leave his hearers cold, having heard them so often, it seems that Mr. Khrushchev is a kind of Lowell Thomas, or John Fisher, as a traveller. He can spellbind audiences by his descriptions of the peoples and places he visits.

A recent instance was his return from Indonesia, whose landscape so enraptured him he said that if the authors of the Bible had known of it that's where they would have planted Paradise.

I had thought that the Soviet regime eschewed the Bible, but here is evidence that Mr. Khrushchev at least knows what is in the Book, although it's perhaps surprising he does not affirm that the Garden of Eden was really somewhere in Russia.

And that as an architect of today's world he is aware of the past and how it impinges on the present.

The only clean slate was the very first one.

Commonwealth Discontent

'Family' Row over South Africa

By RICHARD L. THOMAS, from London

FOR the first time since it was established, the conference of Commonwealth prime ministers in May has all the indications of a major diplomatic encounter. In other days, when it was called the Imperial conference, the prime minister of Mother England sat benignly in a comfortable arm chair with all the children paying metaphorical homage rather like a family gathering when all the married sons and daughters made a great effort to return home for the golden wedding of the parents.

No doubt the sons and daughters — and the in-laws — thought the parental homage was a bit of a bore. Sometimes there were what the communiques called "useful discussions" and an "exchange of views"; mostly it was a case of "well, you are a big boy now — fancy five million people. There were only four million last time you were here. You have been busy." The children were proud, mother was full of admiration for her own achievement, and it all finished up very nicely with garden parties, dinners, and as often as not a big fat cheque (at big fat interest) to help the great work of the Empah.

* * *

It was hinted that once or twice one or two of the little kids were a bit rude to mother but they were quickly slapped down. Maybe occasionally someone accused mother of being a little old fashioned but there was nothing which could not be cured by a cheque or a knighthood, and life and trade went on smoothly to the next Imperial Conference.

Then things started to change. The mother and child relationship was altered to a family association based upon equality. Everyone was equal, except that mother was by implication more equal because she was so old. That tradition lingers to this day. Mother is the only Commonwealth country which has a secretary of state for Commonwealth affairs, the only country which has a Commonwealth relations office.

To a very considerable extent the old Imperial conference, now the conference of Commonwealth prime ministers, retains some of the old traditions. It is intended to be a family gathering. At least 90 per cent of all talk is intended to be pious platitudes, and the other 10 per cent is intended to be about money and trade. Mother may no longer hand out cheques because she has something of the qualification of a gentlewoman in reduced circumstances, but she can still offer a certain amount of largesse in the form of trade preferences and her young people still have a certain amount of "know-how" in the modern techniques. There is still a limited amount of cash for underdeveloped countries.

* * *

But this time there is every indication of a blow up. The traditional family tea party is seriously in jeopardy and the nigger in the woodpile is the Union of South Africa. The Commonwealth family is, of course, an enigma. All the big boys are whites, all the little boys are black or brown. But the little boys have by far the largest families; and for the first time the color problem is likely to loom large in the discussions.

Indeed it has been said that an encouraging number of prime ministers have been in jail and that Dr. Nkrumah of Ghana, for example, is not going to mince words about Dr. Verwoerd of South Africa and that all the resources of complacent diplomacy wil have to be mobilized to prevent a major explosion.

It is, possibly, unfortunate that Dr. Verwoerd is unlikely to be with us in England. It is still possible that his representative may be here and that he may proffer the resignation of South Africa from the Commonwealth, which could solve many problems. If that is not done it is suggested that Dr. Nkrumah will lead a revolt asking the colored nations of the Commonwealth to reject the Commonwealth as long as South Africa remains in it. Mr. Harold Macmillan will find that his winds of change have become the whirlwind of discontent.

* * *

Diplomacy may save the day. It can be argued that the only hope of creating a change of heart in South Africa is the pressure of Commonwealth opinion and that to throw her out would be to lose that last chance, and that Ghana as the champion of the colored citizen (in her own eyes) will do better by exercising influence through Commonwealth machinery.

And just quietly, of course, there is the question whether Ghana should not get busy with the moat in her own eye. The South African tyranny is sharper in its focus, but the Ghana tyranny is very little less. South Africa's ingratitude to the black man is matched by the Ghana government's ingratitude to the black man who happens to be in opposition. In both nations there is the ugly hand of dictatorship, the ugly machinery of the police state.

Commonwealth diplomats are worried. They do not want to see a cleavage in the Commonwealth between black and white, but neither do they wish to be faced with a situation—as would arise if Dr. Nkrumah appears as the champion of the oppressed—of the devil rebuking sin. The pointers are all towards a family row, the real question is whether it will be made up before everyone goes home again.

Enter the Psychiatrist

Maladjusted Dogs

(From The Times, London)

SOME dog owners will sympathize with the lady who has said in court of her delinquent pet that he is "as gentle as a kitten really, but he does have this bad habit of wanting to bite other dogs."

This bad habit among these canine kittens of all sizes is familiar enough. But the proposed cure is novel and full details of it will be awaited with lively expectation.

The dog is to have psychiatric treatment on the grounds that his maladjusted attitude towards his fellow animals has something to do with the way his mind works. By one of those odd coincidences that revive flagging belief in progress, simultaneously with this news of one dog about to be psycho-analyzed comes that of another who has been given tranquillizers.

Why he needed them is not altogether clear, for, having bitten three people, he was reported to be staying quietly indoors, no doubt with a happy sense of self-fulfilment. Surely those tranquillizers should have been issued to his unfortunate victims.

His case will arouse no more than passing curiosity in most of us who have had to do with dogs. How hard was it, one speculates, to make him take the stuff? If it was just smuggled into his rations, solid or liquid, then there is little interest in the business. The technique of a veterinary psychologist will be much more worth while hearing about. If he has a soothing way with the vilest tempered dog — as so many veterinary surgeons do—then he will be able at least to start by getting the brute relaxed.

Then what? Does he send it to sleep and whisper in its ear therapeutic slogans, such as "I like every tyke" or "Mistress approves of me chasing rats and loves me for loving pussy cats."

There are dogs, or so one likes to hope, who will respond to such treatment. No longer, once they have risen from the couch or uncurled from the basket, in the consulting room will they have to be kept on a lead. They will walk home obediently to heel, wagging their tails behind them. That old straining on the collar, that attempt to prance pugnaciously into battle against the mildest and most inoffensive of dogs passing by will be a thing of yesterday. Even more of a relief, the wild charge, when off the lead, at an opponent, three times the size of the aggressor and by no means unwilling to display its skill in the art of self-defence, will be forgotten.

There is only one catch about the cure, if and when it comes completely off. How will reformed dogs and their owners explain to neighboring enemies of long standing that the great change has happened? The dog next door whose delight it is to lie in wait and then to bark and — if the mix-up gets really serious — to bite, how is he to be handled? What advice will a psychiatrist give to his patient on how to repel boarders without being untrue to the newly-won spirit of appeasement?

How do you teach a dog to turn the other ear?

The Packsack

Of GREGORY CLARK

SOME time ago the Packsack toyed with the phrase "red tape" and subsequently several readers have sent in genuine authentic samples of the red tape used by different governments in tying up documents and official papers of all sorts. One sample came from Ottawa, two from England, one from Washington and one from Argentina.

In the first place, red tape is not red, but a sort of washed out pink color. This was characteristic of all of them, regardless of their source. They were of varying widths from about a quarter inch to a little under half an inch, but all had a cheap, cottony feel to them, and when all is said and done were little more than a flimsy sort of pink string.

All those who sent them to the Packsack admitted to having been public servants at one time and had collected the samples as souvenirs. And all admitted that the use of red tape had, to some extent and possibly, entirely, been abandoned.

New and improved material has taken the place of red tape. It may now be cellophane, or Scotch tape, the sticky kind.

One thing to be said about red tape: it wasn't sticky, like the new stuff, whatever it is, that the official would appear to be using now.

Vicious Circle

When one considers the thousands of old-age pensioners and retired people in this city who will have to deny themselves many of the ordinary comforts of life in order to meet the ever-increasing wage demands and tax rate, one wonders if the union leaders have any sense of justice and right beyond their own interests.

So far as the arbitration board is concerned that has become a farce and should never be tolerated again by our city. The same thing happened when the teachers' salaries came up for arbitration earlier this year. And last, but not least, is the disturbing fact of the public apathy towards this vicious circle of annual wage demands.

Menace to Health

With reference to the address by Prof. Harry V. Warren, professor of geology, UBC, quoted in the Colonist on April 20 relative to tetraethyl poisoning of trees and vegetation.

Several years ago this writer gave a public warning through the local press which didn't seem to carry much weight; the practices referred to were not stopped. Would a repetition, after Prof. Warren's lecture, impress duly the authorities concerned and the public?

We stated the practice of placing vegetables, etc., out in front of some local stores, or having food stores open continuously, exposed to auto fumes from constant motor traffic on the streets, was a menace to public health. So too, is the transport of vegetables and fruit by neighborhood pedlars.

Notwithstanding our advances in medical science, we cannot build hospitals fast enough. It is time for intensified research into basic causes. Modern society has adopted far too many habits and practices detrimental to human health, and the medical profession is entirely too complacent.

Color Films in N.Z.

Before we get into hot water with all our New Zealand friends and others, re color photography as reported in the Colonist of April 24, we wish to make a correction.

Although it is perfectly true that all processing of color transparencies, 35 m.m. slides, has to be done in Australia, the films can be purchased in any camera shop or drug store in New Zealand. Also good color slides of the most famous beauty spots in New Zealand can be readily found in most tourist centres.

However, the color photography to which reference was meant is Kodacolor films, which can be used even in cameras of the box type and from which colored prints can be obtained. Owing, presumably, to the somewhat stringent import restrictions, these are practically unknown and unprocurable.

We did manage to find an Agfa film of the same type but were told that the processing would have to be done in England or Germany as Australia had not got them either.

We sincerely apologize to all New Zealanders for any misunderstanding with regard to the above.

Constitution Defied?

LIONEL CHEVRIER
. . . doubts in Quebec

OTTAWA (UPI)—Proposed solution of the Quebec university grants controversy is "fantastic," unconstitutional and "the worst intrusion ever attempted by a federal government in the affair of a province," former Liberal cabinet minister Lionel Chevrier charged Tuesday.

He told the Commons the issue had split Quebec Conservatives because it is "a clear violation of the constitution," and said Prime Minister Diefenbaker and Finance Minister Fleming are "enthusiastic accessories to it."

Under the legislation, Quebec could increase its corporation income tax and use the increased revenue for university grants. The federal government would allow the taxed corporations to deduct the added provincial payment from their federal corporation tax.

Solicitor-General Leon Balcer called the proposal, first advanced by the late Quebec Premier Sauve, "a splendid solution." He said the fact that the former Liberal legislation was accepted by all provinces but Quebec left "very grave doubts as to its constitutionality."

Balcer denied that the late Premier Duplessis had opposed grants. He said that before Duplessis' death, the premier had a plan similar to the one presented by Sauve.

Chevrier launched a bitter attack on what he described as the delegation of federal power to the provinces. He said the proposed legislation went beyond the jurisdiction of parliament.

"This is the worst intrusion ever attempted by a federal government in the affairs of a province," Chevrier said.

Under the legislation, he said, "the federal government determines when a provincial tax will be levied, what will be its minimum rate, how it will be utilized for a provincial purpose and what will be its maximum yield to the provincial treasury.

"For all practical purpcses, then, as the minister of finance has said, university grants "will 'be paid out of the federal treasury' by the province," he charged.

"No other federal government since Confederation has dared to intervene so emphatically, so evidently and so thoroughly in so exclusively a provincial matter.

"This is surely the height of arrogance because our courts have decided that even the delegation of a federal power to a legislature or vice versa is unconstitutional."

Single Vote Defeats Sea-Law Formula

GENEVA (CP)—A UN conference to set new limits for territorial waters and coastal fishing rights ended in failure Tuesday.

For the second time in two years, a proposal before nearly all nations in the world narrowly fell short of the required two-thirds majority.

It was a Canadian-U.S. formula to extend territorial waters to six miles at once, and grant coastal nations exclusive fishing rights up to 12 miles off shore after a 10-year adjustment period.

The proposal missed by a single vote. The conference voted in favor of it, 54 to 28, with five abstentions.

The big Western maritime nations immediately withdrew their six-plus-mile compromise offer, rejected any nation's claim to jurisdiction beyond three-mile limit and said they might enter into their own treaty.

Opposition came from the Soviet, African-Asian and Latin-American blocs, determined to obtain a universal extension to 12 miles.

Conference sources said it would be several years before another meeting could be held.

'Charlie' de Gaulle Wins New York

NEW YORK (AP)—French President Charles de Gaulle made another of his great triumphal returns Tuesday, this time to New York City. At one point he strode away from his security guard to embrace well-wishers in Times Square.

Police estimated 1,000,000 persons lined lower Broadway to roar a greeting to the austere old warrior. De Gaulle is one of the few men ever to receive a second ticker-tape parade up the historic Manhattan canyon of heroes.

"Vive de Gaulle!" rose from tens of thousands of throats as the towering figure of the French leader was borne along the route in President Eisenhower's bubble-topped limousine, brought from Washington for the occasion.

"Hey, Charlie," cried other onlookers, less formally.

After the parade, when de Gaulle's caravan arrived at the Hotel Astor, he bolted his police escort, ignored a red carpet at the 44th Street entrance, and marched across the street to shake hands with some of the 2,000 spectators massed behind police barricades.

"Good luck to all of you," he said in English, as he embraced some of them with a wide sweep of his arms.

The dismayed police escort, augmented by police commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy who leaped from his own limousine, ringed de Gaulle and virtually shoved him back to the hotel.

Canada Plan for Summit

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada is pushing for more simplified disarmament proposals to be placed before the East-West summit meeting at Paris opening May 16, an informant said Tuesday.

There is hope here that the other four Western nations negotiating on disarmament with the Soviet bloc at Geneva will support the Canadian plan.

The five Western negotiators — Canada, Britain, the United States, France and Italy—will meet in Istanbul just before the May 2-4 NATO foreign ministers' conference there.

The Canadian plan, not yet firm, is for the West to take to the summit meeting with Russia about five basic disarmament principles and perhaps a similar number of proposals on which concrete disarmament moves could be taken immediately.

The object is to weed out all the details and miscellany from the original Western three-stage disarmament plan and thereby leave something solid into which the negotiators could get their teeth at once.

Little progress on disarmament is expected here to come out of the summit meeting between President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Macmillan and President de Gaulle on the one hand and Soviet Premier Khrushchev on the other.

What is hoped is that summit conferees will refer to the 10-nation Geneva disarmament committee proposals on which progress can be made.

During his visits to Ottawa and Washington, French President de Gaulle stressed the need for control of the means of delivering nuclear warheads by bomber and rocket.

WINNIPEG — Touring Governor-General Vanier said a grounding in history is part of the duty of self-respect which Canadians owe themselves.

Stock Prices Take Upturn At Toronto

TORONTO (CP) — Industrials made a striking comeback on the stock market after a day of irregular trading.

After beginning the day with more than a half-point drop, industrials recovered on index with a gain of 2.59 at 488.40, while base metals also made a recovery, up .27 at 157.40. Western oils dropped .75 at 90.79 and golds were down .61 at 82.21.

Bathurst Pulp and Paper B led the upward surge with a gain of 3½ at 30½, with Huron and Erie up two points at 52½, Dominion Stores up ¾ at 49¾ and Dominion Foundries, Imperial Bank and Imperial Life all up ½ at 43¼, 54¼ and 74.

On the losing side, Chrysler dropped 1¾ at 49, with U.S. Ford and Toronto Iron Works A down ¾ at 65¼ and 13¾, and Alberta Gas, Algoma Steel and Burlington Steel all down ½ at 21¼, 34¼ and 16.

International Nickel led the about-turn in the mines section, up ½ at 50¾, with Hollinger up ⅛ at 24½ and Cassiar ahead ¼ at 12⅞. Hudson Bay, Kerr Addison and Falconbridge all dropped ¼ at 44½, 13½ and 30.8.

In senior uraniums Gunnar was off five cents at $8.55.

Calgary and Edmonton spread a damper on the Western oils section with a drop of ⅜ at 16½, with Canadian Husky off 35 cents, Central Del Rio off 25 cents at $4.75 and Canadian Superior off 15 cents at $9.75.

Bailey Selburn improved 10 cents at $6.20 and Home Oil A gained 20 cents at $9.50.

Imperial Oil Slips

MONTREAL (CP)—Despite strength in selected issues, the Montreal and Canadian stock exchanges closed lower for the second successive day. Trading was light.

Leading the market lower with one-point losses were Dominion Stores at 49, Provincial Bank at 35, International Utilities at 33, Algoma Steel at 34 and Price Bros. at 41.

Power Corp. fell ¾ at 44¾, British-American Bank Note dropped ⅝ at 51, Mount Royal Dairies declined ⅜ at 7¼ and Imperial Oil slipped ⅝ at 31.

On the upward side, Maclaren Power and Paper Co. and Bathurst Pulp and Paper B both gained 2⅛ at 82½ and 31½. Bathurst A rose 1½ at 42, Imperial Bank improved 1¼ at 54¼, Canadian Bronze increased 1⅝ at 21⅞ and Handy Andy added 1 at 13½.

Western oils were again weaker. Calgary and Edmonton touched a new low of 16¾, down ¼. Cent Del Rio fell 25 cents at $4.75 and Home Oil A eased 15 cents at $9.35.

Ford Adds Two

NEW YORK (UPI) — Individual stock features, moving in response to corporate announcements, provided the life in a generally narrow-moving, moderately active market.

Gains in special issues — ranging past 4 points in Universal Match which responded to a dividend boost — overshadowed a continued hesitancy in the market.

Most of the electronics were higher—2 points or more in General Time, Beckman, Texas Instruments, but Motorola lost 2 points.

Ford ran up nearly 2 points and American over a point, reflecting their satisfactory compact car sales.

Polaroid rose 3½, Bell & Howell 2¼ in the cameras.

Industrials Lower

VANCOUVER — Most industrials were lower with B.C. Power at $31¼; Woodwards at $16¾ and Canadian Collieries at $8½.

Mines were mixed with Bralorne strengthening to 5.05 and Granduc 1.16. Craigmont eased to 4.05 and Cowichan at 43 cents. Giant Mascot and Pacific Nickel were firm.

Vantor dropped to 40 cents and Peace River to 38 cents among oils. Prosper was active at 14 cents.

Montreal Bonds

Prices were generally higher in fairly active trading. Advances of 10 cents to 25 cents were made in medium term Canadas, while strength showed in the various new 5½ per cent issues. Short terms were also stronger up to 10 cents. Corporations added up to ¾.

Maybe It Was the Motion

When towering (6' 5") Don Drysdale throws, wrists, arms, shoulders and almost everything else movable moves and at the top of his throwing motion he looks something like a washboard. Anyway, Chicago Cubs found the Los Angeles righthander more than a little baffling yesterday, getting only four hits in 8-1 loss.—(AP Photofax.)

Early-Season Results Hint Strongly Scrambles Likely in Major Leagues

There were no unbeaten team left after yesterday's play and there were further indications that both major baseball leagues are in for a real pennant scramble.

Detroit Tigers, who started off last season at something like a 2-17 pace, were tumbled after five straight wins by Cleveland Indians, 2-1, in 11 innings.

With Chicago White Sox snapping their losing streak on shutout pitching by Bob Shaw and Boston Red Sox again plaguing the New York Yankees, there were no signs that any club rated the favorite's role in the American League.

And it was the same in the National League, where San Francisco Giants were felled by the resurgent St. Louis Cardinals and Los Angeles Dodgers and Milwaukee Braves snapped out of it with hope-provoking victories.

Rookie Wynn Hawkins got credit for the win over Detroit when Vic Powers' bloop single followed a base on balls and a single to send in the tie-breaking run.

SECURITY RISK

Hec Lopez, a good hit, no-field outfielder made himself trade bait yesterday with his left-field play for New York Yankees.

He dropped a fly ball in the third inning to set up a five-run Boston rally. Then, after the Yanks had fought back to 4-5, Lopez managed to play a routine single into a triple to give the Red Sox what proved to be the winning run in a 7-5 decision.

Wasted by the Yanks was the hitting of Yogi Berra, who drove in four runs with a homer, double and single, and Moose Skowron, who hit a double and home run.

Jim Lemon, Dan Dobbek, Harmon Killebrew and Earl Battey all hit home runs for Washington but, for the second successive day a three-run homer by Jim Gentile beat the Senators. This time the Baltimore first-baseman hit it in the eighth inning to win the game, 11-10.

Four Chicago errors and four-hit pitching by Don Drysdale gave the Dodgers an easy 8-1 win over the Cubs. Drysdale, a fine hitter for a pitcher, helped himself with a double and two singles.

Winless up until yesterday, veteran southpaw Warren Spahn, who had been complaining about not enough action, showed old-time form for the Braves. He had to go 11 innings to beat Cincinnati Reds although he gave up but four hits.

Sam Jones failed for the second time in a row as the Giants went down to the Cardinals, 4-2. This time Jones didn't survive the first inning as the St. Louis club opened with four runs.

OUTDOORS

with Alec Merriman

Be it ever so humble, the worm always gets the fish.

That is how it was for us at Buttle Lake Friday morning. We fished the lake at the lower end and down what used to be the river to the head of Upper Campbell Lake and never got a strike.

That early in the morning there wasn't a soul around (we started at 5 a.m.) and we were doing our own exploring of the fishy waters.

"Where are those fish they say are biting like mad," we asked ourselves over and over again as we changed to lure after lure—March brown fly, salmon egg fly, small spoons, gang trolls and flatfish. There just wasn't any action at all.

About 8 a.m. we saw a young fellow and his father casting off a log on the edge of the shore just where the former river part of the lake is narrowest, about one mile back from the end of the road which stops at the lower end of Buttle Lake.

They were pulling in fish like crazy—small ones, nine, 10 and 11 inches. They were fishing with worms.

We rowed in fairly close and saw the sandy shoal bottom was almost black with trout. We tried our flies, our flatfish and our small spoons and didn't get a nibble.

Finally we stooped to a plain worm which we let sink to the bottom and dangle. The fish went mad. We could have caught our limit three times over in a matter of an hour or two, but many of them were spawning rainbow. There were, however, some clean silvery dolly vardens which were good keeping fish.

★ ★ ★

That one spot appeared to be the only place at Buttle where fish are being caught and any anglers planning a Buttle trip in the near future should keep to the former river part. The lake is too cold yet and needs some warm weather before the trout will be striking in it. The river section can be fished equally well from the shore or a boat.

The road in to Buttle is now first class for a gravel road.

We chose Buttle Lake for our first camping trip of the year . . . and man it was cold. We had the whole lake to ourselves, but other campers were moving in on Friday. Snow was on the hills to within a couple of hundred yards of the lakeshore and anyone camping there should take along extra blankets or a super warm sleeping bag, preferably both.

There are numerous undeveloped camping spots along the road to Buttle and at the end of the road there is one outhouse. Litterbugs have left their mark and it is to be hoped campers are more careful this year.

Hottest freshwater fishing spot on Vancouver Island right now is the Salmon River at Sayward where 15 to 20-pound steelhead are still being caught. There is a private logging road at Sayward which runs along the river for several miles past scores of deep pools which yield the big fish regularly. Try a cluster of salmon eggs plunked along the bottom of the river.

But be sure to take along heavy tackle for steelhead in the Salmon because they run big and the river is running too fast to land them on anything short of 12-pound test line, and preferably 15.

It was the light tackle we had along which kept us from fishing the Salmon on Saturday.

It is late in the season for the steelhead run, but there are still clean fresh steelies starting up the river and at the top end the black spawners can be hooked on practically every other cast.

Semi-Finals Reached In Ladies' Foursomes

Two teams from the Royal Colwood Golf and Country Club and one each from Gorge Vale and Uplands yesterday reached the semi-finals in the Canadian Ladies' Golf Union two-ball foursomes.

Feature match in the quarter-finals saw the Uplands pairing of Mrs. E. Livingstone and Mrs. R. Bramley oust Mrs. B. Thirlwell and Mrs. D. Naysmith, 1 up.

Winners trailed by three holes at the turn but toured the back nine at Uplands in a gross 44. With a handicap margin of 12 strokes, it enabled them to draw even on the 17th and win it on the last green.

Semi-finals will be played tomorrow at Gorge Vale. Starting times:

Attendance Booms In Major Leagues

By BEN OLAN

NEW YORK (AP) — Big league baseball is booming with an over-all increase of 36 per cent in attendance and 13 teams showing gains over last season.

An Associated Press survey through Sunday's games disclosed Monday that 1,399,783 customers have entered the turnstiles compared to 1,031,276 in as many home dates in 1959. This represents an increase of 368,507.

The National League has attracted 892,918 fans. The American, which opened a week later than its rival circuit, has drawn 508,865. All eight American League clubs are ahead of last year.

The San Francisco Giants have pulled 207,641 fans at their new Candlestick Park for seven home games. This represents an increase of 82,000 over the same number of games in Seals' Stadium last season. Only once this season have the Giants played before less than 25,000 at home.

The Los Angeles Dodgers, who went over the 2,000,000 mark in 1959, are up 58,000 over last season.

The Detroit Tigers, leaders in the pennant race, are also setting the attendance pace in the American League. The surprising Tigers have drawn 104,059 for three games in Briggs Stadium for a gain of 49,000.

Six crowds of better than 40,000 already have been reported. The largest was 67,550 opening day in Los Angeles. The top American League crowd was 53,563 at Detroit April 22.

Last year, the American League boosted its attendance 9.6 per cent to 9,149,454. However, it was outdrawn by the National League, which reached 9,994,525, although showing a slight decline last season.

Practices Set

Practices for clubs in the senior section of the Victoria Amateur Baseball Association will continue tonight at Royal Athletic Park with Naval Veterans and players from last year's Pages scheduled to take the field at 6.30.

They will work out again Friday at the same time while Eagles and Wakeman-Trimble will practice tomorrow night.

Boxla Champs Visit Tonight— Nanaimo Loses Opener, 10-8

Coach Norm Baker's Victorians may be a trifle short on conditioning and they will be short six players who figure to be regulars but they start the Inter-City Lacrosse League season tonight confident of giving the league and Canadian champions a stiff tussle.

Jake Proctor's New Westminster club, which bested Victoria, 4-1, in the ICLL final last year before going on to a second successive win, will also probably be a bit short on condition. And they will be without Jack Bionda, the league scoring champion.

Bionda is now with Nanaimo, but it wasn't quite enough for the shorthanded up-Islanders, who dropped a 10-8 decision to Vancouver at Vancouver last night as the season opened before a crowd of 1,243 fans.

COULD BE CLOSE

But league officials are looking forward to the closest race in some seasons. New Westminster won last year with 40 points from 30 games, Vancouver followed with 31 and Victoria just beat out Nanaimo, 25 points to 24, for the third playoff spot.

Addition of Bionda and new interest, the thinking goes, should do much to bring Nanaimo much closer to New Westminster, Vancouver is considered about the same strength as it was last season and Victoria is expected to be improved with their seven 1959 rookies now more seasoned.

Although veteran Lou Landess will be out of action with a shoulder injury, import Paul Parnell is not due to arrive for a few days and Bob McKee, Tom English, Jackie Wilson and Jackie Showers still attending school, Baker will floor what appears to be a solid club tonight.

He can choose between holdover Geordie Johnston and rookie Fred Wooster for goal and will have four veterans in Jackie Northrup, Ed Kowalyk, Al Gill and Al Davies on defence.

John Hanson, a husky youngster making his ICLL debut with a chance of earning a spot, will play on one forward line with sophomores Jim McNeill and Tom Collett. Whitey Severson, Ron Jay and Gary Moore, acquired from Nanaimo, form an all-veteran unit. Stu Smith, rookie Doug Flynn and Norm Kowalyk, returning to the Victoria lineup after playing a few games with Nanaimo last year, make up the other forward line.

Game time at Memorial Arena is 8.30.

NOT ENOUGH

Last night, Nanaimo found its two-man punch of Bionda and Skip MacKay not quite enough to make up for the balanced Vancouver attack.

MacKay had three goals and two assists and Bionda two goals and one assist but none of their teammates could get more than one point and only three of them could score.

Eight of the winners found the net behind Fred Fulla with Bill Barbour and Pete Black each scoring twice.

Vancouver used both veteran Stan Joseph, starting his 15th season, and ex-Victorian Don Hamilton in goal, alternating them each quarter. There was little difference, Joseph stopping 19 of 22 shots and Hamilton 17 of 22 in a game which produced fine goaling on both sides.

A five-goal third quarter was the difference, Vancouver breaking into an 8-4 lead, enough to take care of Nanaimo's attempted fourth-quarter rally.

Can Now Build His Own House

LONDON (AP)—A carpenter today scooped £100,000 ($267,000) with a penny bet on Britain's soccer pools.

The prize went to 40-year-old Stanley Wilson, who up to now has supported a wife and two children on a wage of £12 ($32) a week.

He took a day off from his job in the northern England town of Hull to collect the prize in London.

An official of Vernon Pools told Wilson: "You have made pools history. You are the first person in the world to win £100,000 for a penny."

Bigger prizes than this have been won on soccer pools in the past, but never for such a small stake. Wilson hit the jackpot by forecasting eight soccer matches to end in a tie.

His wife was too busy looking after their sick baby to attend the presentation. They live in a house which Wilson rents for 21 shillings a week.

"Now I can build a super bungalow," Wilson said. "We'll all live with every modern comfort that money can buy."

Champ Gains Second Round In Club Meet

Defending-champion George Andrews and medalist Don Ross both got through first-round play in the handicap championship at the Royal Colwood Golf and Country Club.

Andrews scored a 4 and 3 win over George Davies while Ross bested Stan Evans, 5 and 3, in a round which also gave him medal honors.

The club president had tied for medal honors with junior Gary Smith in the qaulifying round and it was decided to settle the issue on medal scores in first-round match play. Ross wound up with a net 69.

Reaching the quarter-finals with Ross and Andrews were Bob Kemp, Denny Hendra, W. McAdams, Pete Seward, Bob Turner and Mick Morgan.

Quarter-final matches are scheduled for Sunday.

JOE HEGEDUS

Touch of intercontinental competition was added to Shrine Western Canada boxing championships with the entry of Joe Hegedus, three years welterweight champion of Hungary before he emigrated to Canada. A two-fisted puncher, Hegedus boasts a 42-3 record with 32 of his wins by knockouts. He is in a tough class but manager Dr. Jack Patterson believes he can win it. Championships will be at Memorial Arena with 31 fighters contending for the 10 titles. First fight at 7.30.

Will third time be lucky for Ron MacLeod, Jasper professional who meets Art Donaldson Sunday in the final of the Island open match-play championship?

Ron has twice before made the last lap, but so far the title has eluded him. In 1951, he was defeated at Colwood by Bob Fleming, then at the top of his form. Last year at Colwood, he bowed out to Bill Wakeham, who turned on the form that in the previous year had made him Canadian junior champion.

As MacLeod did not play in this event for several years after being appointed to Jasper, his consistency has been remarkable, and it would not be out of his turn if he were to take the title.

But as before Ron has a big task ahead of him. Art Donaldson, the genial big fellow from Gorge Vale, whom the RCGA refused to reinstate to amateur ranks some time ago, is one of the finest shot-makers hereabouts and those who saw him in a thrilling duel last week with Lawrie Kerr, will agree that Ron has to produce something better than he has shown so far if he is to win.

While on present form Donaldson looks the choice, there is one important aspect. The game will be played at Gorge Vale, where Donaldson's artistry with the long irons is not likely to be such formidable artillery as it was at Colwood. MacLeod, on the other hand, has usually shown a liking for the Gorge course, and that may make it a battle right down to the finish.

In the handicap section 19-year-old Vic Derman, son of the Victoria district secretary tackles a very experienced campaigner in Walter Spaven of Cedar Hill.

Walter in his younger days was a Victoria caddy champion, and played in many open events on the Prairies. In one Alberta championship he was leading with nine holes to play and allowed Stan Leonard to overtake him on the home stretch.

Not so long now, but still a steady player, he will have to concede one shot a round to young Derman, who on last week's form showed he has all the golfing qualities of his father with single putts on seven of the first nine holes of the second round against Fred Groome.

This year's Centennial foursome competition is being played at Uplands, Sunday, May 15, and entry forms for this popular event are now in the hands of the club secretaries and/or professionals.

The fee is $7 per team, and players may choose their own partners. Half the combined handicap will be used for the 18 holes medal round.

In addition to the handsome rose bowl, many net prizes are being offered.

DON CAMPBELL was elected president of the Victoria Golf Club at its annual meeting Monday. Lou Williams is vice-president, Dick Clay club captain and Bob Gunning, Alan Taylor and George Brebner new additions to the committee. . . . George Vale will be a busy spot Sunday what with the finals of the Island match play open and the qualifying round in the club handicap championship. . . . Qualifying round of the club championship will be held at the Victoria club Saturday. It is in two groups—"A" for members with handicaps of 12 or less and "B" for those with 13 strokes or more. . . . Club-captain Vic Painter has arranged an attractive "New Members' Day" for Royal Colwood, Saturday, May 14. Following competition a dinner-dance will be held in the clubhouse. . . . It will be Harold Fosbrooke and George Bigelow against Alex McCabe and Norman Bamford in the final of the Challoner-Mitchell foursomes at the Victoria club.

PREPARING FOR LEAGUE

The Victoria Inter-Club League, which made an auspicious debut last year with the Royal Colwood Club edging out Gorge Vale in the last match of the series for the title, is to get going again on Tuesday, May 24.

The four clubs taking part—Colwood, Gorge, Uplands and Victoria—will play each other home and away with their six-men teams.

After the opening matches on May 24, the games will be played on the next five Monday evenings.

Micky Bartkow and Robbie Robison, co-chairmen of the league this year, are calling a meeting next week to draw up the schedule.

Lions Plan to Travel Light—and Far

VANCOUVER (CP) — He who travels lightest travels farthest. Also, say British Columbia Lions, he travels the fastest.

And this year, claims general manager Herb Capozzi, the Western Interprovincial Football Union's Lions should go whoosh!

He said Lions plan to reduce the equipment and uniform load of each player by as much as five pounds.

PSYCHOLOGY

"Not only that, but we've got plans to make that five pounds feel 15 pounds lighter."

During training at the club's camp at Kelowna, B.C., and during the season the players would wear the heaviest of equipment.

"Then, when they put on the new, light game equipment they'll be flying. If you thought Willie Fleming was fast last year, wait until this season. Whoosh."

Willie may whoosh at Empire Stadium, but at Kelowna he'll be joining other Lions in leg-strengthening exercises to get used to the heavy equipment.

They will wear special practice boots with soles twice as thick—and heavy—as those on game boots, and cowhide uppers that may reach the knees of some of the smaller players.

If Capozzi and coach Wayne Robinson have their way, the players will also have strings of lead weights around their ankles.

But when game-time comes around it will be a defferent story.

The backs will wear a new-type, low-cut boot five to six ounces lighter than the usual low-cut. It is called a slopper and is little more than a track shoe with cleats in place of spikes.

BOOT BILL DUE

They are so light halfbacks are expected to wear out at least two or three pairs a season.

Capozzi says pants also will be about five ounces lighter than those used last season. Pads, made of lighter plastics and cut down in some respects, will be two pounds lighter than standard.

Helmets will remain the same but will have lighter, plastic face guards attached.

While all this doesn't quite add up to five pounds, Capozzi says he is confident some razor-sharp crew-cuts and some close pre-game shaves will bridge the gap.

ARNOLD PALMER, averaging more than $10,000 a month, leads U.S. pro golfers this year with earnings of $44,300 for winning five tournaments and placing among the top five in eight others . . . behind Palmer are Dow Finsterwald ($25,300), Ken Venturi ($23,300), Jack Fleck ($13,800), Bob Goalby ($13,400), Bill Casper ($12,700), Bill Maxwell ($12,600), Fred Hawkins ($12,300), Doug Sanders ($11,400) and Jerry Barber $(10,900) . . . Bobby Locke, ace South African golf pro injured in a car-train accident two months ago, is shooting in the low 70s again and is able to get his left eye open again. He plans to play in the Canada Cup matches and the British Open . . . Noble Noor, winner of Saturday's California Derby, and Weatherwise have been withdrawn from the Kentucky Derby because of injuries . . . Hungary has qualified for the Olympic soccer tournament with a 2-1 win over Czechoslovakia.

PAUL ANDERSON, 1956 Olympic heavyweight weightlifting champion who tried professional wrestling for a while, found Monday night that boxing is not his cup of tea. Antilio Tondo, a 190-pounder, handed out so much punishment that the 290-pound Anderson asked the referee to stop the fight near the end of the third round. "I advise Anderson to stick to wrestling," Tondo said . . . Curt Roberts, all-star International Baseball League second-baseman last season, has been acquired by Spokane Indians of the Coast League from Montreal Royals . . . Bob Kellog, assistant football coach at Mississippi State for the past five seasons, has been signed for the same job by Edmonton Eskimos of the WIFU . . . The Eskimos yesterday also announced that they had signed Jim Letcavits, 24-year-old holdover end . . . heavyweight contenders Eddie Machen and Alex Miteff will tangle in New York on May 20 . . . Machen, however, has called off his scheduled May 2 fight against Willie Besmanoff in Seattle—Henry Hank, a cocky slugger being avoided by most top middleweights, flattened Rory Calhoun in the second round at San Francisco Monday night to run his win streak to seven in a row and his record to 42-10 . . . Deane Beamon, university student who won British amateur golf championship last year, will be unable to defend his title . . . Joe Kelly, import halfback who helped Ottawa Rough Riders make the Big Four final last year, has been signed for the 1960 season.

British in 1962 Bid For America's Cup

LONDON (Reuters) — The Royal Thames Yacht club has announced some of its members will race for the America's Cup in the summer of 1962.

Club secretary Neville Blair said a cable has been sent to the New York Yacht Club giving notice that the British club intends to make the challenge. Blair said the British yachtsmen were spurred into making the challenge by a similar challenge disclosed by Australia's Royal Sydney Yacht Squadron. The last challenge was in October, 1958. Cup-defender Columbia easily beat British challenger Sceptre.

Season's High For Fivepins

Owner of Victoria's newest season fivepin bowling record is Ron Chamberlain who rolled a three-game total of 1,042 Sunday at Esquimalt Bowladrome.

Chamberlain, participating in a Trio Tournament, had games of 351, 333, 358 to snap the previous season high-three of 1,025. He was bowling with Lyle Flett and Art Fletcher in the tournament and, mainly through Chamberlain's record score, the team is in first place.

The tournament continues for two more weeks.

Garden Notes

Flavor's Our Target

By M. V. CHESNUT, FRHS

If there is any point at all in growing fruit and vegetables in the home garden, surely it is to secure freshness and flavor. Strawberries, raspberries, tomatoes, corn and many of our tree fruits taste better from the home garden than from the store, partly because the home gardener doesn't have to pick his produce on the green side for shipment to distant markets, and partly because he can pick his varieties for their flavor rather than for their sales appeal.

With flavor such an important point, then, it seems to me that we could pay a little more attention to our fertilizing and feeding program. Nutrition experts tell us that the vitamin and mineral content and the flavor of fruits and vegetables are greatly influenced by the condition of the soil in which the produce is grown.

Other things being equal, apples and cabbages grown in a sunny and exposed garden will be sweeter in flavor and richer in food values than those grown in areas of low sunshine. Flavor is influenced by variety, too. Wearing a blindfold, you could tell a Delicious apple from a Mackintosh easily enough, and the floury texture of a Netted Gem potato is quite unlike the firmer-fleshed Pontiac. These differences are a matter of genetical inheritance and breeding.

Outside of these two factors—sunshine and variety—the most important influence on food flavor is the fertilizing program. It is generally agreed that flavor is enhanced by maintaining a high level of organic matter in the soil, such as manure, compost or seaweed, but one point often overlooked is that these materials must be well rotted.

It is overly fresh dung and other organic material that produces the rank, sulphurous-smelling cabbage or the unduly earthy potato. The offending element is the form of the nitrogen. In fresh manure it is in the form of ammonia, and confers its rank odor to the plants. In rotted material, the nitrogen appears in the benign nitrate form, without any taint.

Too much nitrogen in any form makes for coarse, rank growth, and with it goes a flat, insipid taste lacking in flavor and sweetness. Too little nitrogen gives us sweeter produce but at the expense of lower yields.

For best results, nitrogen must be balanced with potash, and this is especially important in the manuring of fruit. Eating apples need as much potash as nitrogen, while cookers can take a little extra nitrogen to increase the size of the fruit. Ample potash is especially vital to good cropping and good flavor in raspberries and gooseberries.

★ ★ ★

Potatoes need potash too, but it should be in the form of a sulphate of potash. The muriate form, although less expensive, has been known, under certain conditions, to impart an unpleasant soapy flavor to potatoes.

Phosphorus plays a part in food flavor too, although its role is not too well understood. It is essential to good ripening and good storage qualities, and on phosphate-deficient soil we get acid flavors and soft flesh.

Calcium, in the form of lime, plays an essential part in plant chemistry, and especially in our leafy vegetables, and a lack of it is one cause of bitter lettuce and sprouts. For crisp, firm leafy vegetables with a sweet, nutty flavor, the lime content of the soil must be maintained.

Tourist in Moscow

By Alan Kent

'Want to Sell Your Dollars?'

(This is the last in series of reports by Canadian newspaperman Alan Kent on a visit to the capital of the Soviet Union.)

MOSCOW (TNS)—The interpreter Nina, a Moscow schoolteacher and part-time Intourist guide, was most reluctant to discuss young men at all.

"We call them—well, it's just not a nice word," she said rather prudishly.

(And Nina was rather prudish. With even a dash of lipstick such as a number of her contemporaries wore she'd have been quite smart-looking, but she didn't approve of lipstick any more than she approved of chewing gum, or the children who asked for it, or the tourists who gave it to them.)

Eventually we dragged it out of her that these fellows were called "stiliagi," and though she went so far as to spell it for us she wouldn't translate it.

We thought she must be hinting that they were called "bums" or something perhaps even more unrefined.

★ ★ ★

And I guess it does have some such slang connotation, although as I understand it "stiliagi" (the singular is stiliaga) only means style-chaser.

These young men, however, were chasing more than styles.

They were well-dressed for the most part, and they were looking for American-style clothes and also for "pencils" which turned out to be ball-point pens.

They were also, incidentally, peddling ikons—always their mother's family ikons, for the old girl needed money badly enough to part with her cherished heritage.

(As we were later to hear it, the ikon trade is a flourishing one with tourists, with whom ikons have become fashionable. But the source was not mother's old home so much as contry churches, looted from time to time by organized rings of thieves.)

★ ★ ★

But mostly these "style-chasers" were dollar-chasers.

Dozens of times you'd be stopped on the sidewalk.

Their ages appeared to range from 14 to 22 or 23, and sometimes they'd operate singly, sometimes in pairs, sometimes in packs.

Almost invariably, the conversation would go like this.

"Excuse me (in exceptionally good English), but are you Americans?"

"No."

"Canadians, then?" (Never once were we taken for English, or French, or Dutch.)

"Yes."

"Do you want to sell your dollars? I can give you 20 rubles for them (or 25, or once even as high as 35.)"

★ ★ ★

At first you'd say no.

Then you'd get curious and ask them questions, and you'd learn that the transaction would always have to be made "tomorrow" at some appointed rendezvous.

After four days of it, you'd be saying no again, long before they got to the end of the spiel.

They got to be a blinkipg nuisance—and if Mr. Khrushchev is listenjng, I'd like to warn him now these little so-and-so's will do more harm to the tourist trade than a declaration of war.

But how is it that they operate so openly?

Their operations are strictly against the law, yet they carry on their obvious negotiations in the midst of the street crowds, even while a policeman is walking past.

Nina—and I presume all her dedicated ilk—genuinely hated them as enemies of the state, and even she wondered why the police didn't pick them up.

We saw two burly policemen move in quickly enough when a fist-fight broke out in the subway station, and deal with the fighters with more despatch than gentleness; but we never saw them even speak to a stiliaga.

I never did find out how these boys could offer 35 rubles to the dollar, or what good such an expensive dollar would do anybody.

But I did learn from one of them that he worked not for himself but for a "boss" who paid him for his work—though he couldn't explain why the boss wanted dollars that badly.

"He doesn't say," the boy said.

★ ★ ★

The unconcern of the police, plus the high premium, certainly suggest a number of things—that officialdom only officially frowns on black marketeering, and that somewhere there's someone in authority who's anxious to collect unrecorded American dollars.

Sanders Likes 'Em Plump

HOLLYWOOD (NANA) — George Sanders like his wives in the round. Zsa Zsa Gabor was comfortably plump when she married him, and new wife Benita Hume has put on something like 20 pounds since she wed Sanders who, incidentally, is saying, like Marion Brando: "I'm not really interested in acting."

★ ★ ★

Singer Joni James was so sure she had bought the old Ernst Lubitsch house in Beverly Hills—for $110,000—that she went shopping for furniture. But there was a hitch, and Joni and husband Tony Acquaviva are again looking for a home.

★ ★ ★

Ernest Borgnine is hoping to persuade Katy Jurado to go to Rome with him when he makes "Love on the North Sea." Katy prefers love in Mexico. But she will be smart to accompany her volatile husband.

★ ★ ★

Jack Benny and Mary Livingstone have been having a ball in the Orient where Jack has been shooting some backgrounds for next season's TV shows.

★ ★ ★

Yul Brynner, alarmed at the $11,000,000 cost of Kirk Douglas' "Spartacus," has shelved "The Gladiators," dealing with the same subject, until next year—to see how Kirk and his epic come out commercially.

★ ★ ★

Ziva Rodann goes back to her native Tel Aviv, leaving the Hollywood lads disconsolate. Including Marion Brando. Ziva plans to star in the Habima Theatre's "Two for the Seesaw," in Hebrew and English.

★ ★ ★

Carolyn Jones, who was too thin, has put on 10 pounds since she finished "Ice Palace" at Warners last December. "I eat seven small meals a day," she informed me.

★ ★ ★

Jack Benny's long-time success as an entertainer is because "he's like a Sunday coat, which survives because you haven't worn it much," according to actor-comedian Alan Young.

★ ★ ★

As for Young, he was offered a television series to make in England, but can't go right now. "I'm a Canadian and I've recently spent three out of five years in England," says Alan. "And that's the limit."

★ ★ ★

Robert Wagner has a quaint but lovable custom. He gives his wife, Natalie Wood, a small square diamond for every month of their marriage. There will soon be enough for a necklace.

★ ★ ★

Hugh Griffith's "Ben Hur" Oscar was taken to him by George Seaton when he left last week for Copenhagen where he shoots "The Counterfeit Traitor," with William Holden and Lilli Palmer, and Mr. Griffith.

★ ★ ★

Anthony Quinn gave a no to the $2,500,000 offer to star in "The Man from Lloyd's" TV series to be made in England and the producers would pay the tax. The deal was for five years. "To Long," Tony explained. He's right. But oh, that beautiful tax-free money!

★ ★ ★

Barbara Stanwyck, sparkling with diamonds—"I buy them myself"—was chatting with Ward Bond on the set of his "Wagon Train," and telling him about her own series, "The Barbara Stanwyck Theatre."

By Dick Williams

Songstress Diahann Carroll was reminiscing between sets at the Cloister nightclub in Hollywood about some of her experiences filming "Porgy and Bess."

Diahann had one scene that necessitated her exit from a doorway into a torrential rainstorm. To achieve the desired effect five or six big fire hoses were turned on the doorway to create the "hurricane."

On Diahann's first try, she was hit so hard by the drenching streams of water that she was unable to open the door, much less force her way through. Director Otto Preminger called for a retake.

The second time when Diahann reached the doorway, the force of the water spun her around and knocked her flat on her back. As she sprawled across the steps in considerable pain and fearful of broken bones, Preminger spoke up sharply.

"Wonderful, darling!" he exclaimed. "Only the script says you're to fall on your face."

You CAN Stop Smoking!

Five-Cigaret Men Unworried —But There Aren't Too Many

'Unconscious Inhaling' Makes a Difference

By ARTHUR KING
Third of a Series

If you consistently smoke less than a pack of cigarets a day, and sometimes just smoke four or five (after meals, say) then yqu probably don't need to finish this series of articles—unless you're interested in helping someone else stop smoking or have an academic or professional interest in the problem.

"Real" smokers undoubtedly scoff at you for calling yourself a smoker at all. How can you enjoy smoking when you smoke so little? they ask.

The light smoker of cigarets is a qualitatively different smoker, too. It's not just a matter of quantity of cigarets consumed, or pipe loads of tobacco, or boxes of perfectos. Nor even volume of tobacco smoke inhaled over a 24-hour period.

The point is that the light smoker of cigarets (say five to 15 a day) and most cigar and pipe smokers, regardless of how many times they light up each day, are smoking for fundamentally different primary reasons, although all smokers undoubtedly derive some satisfactions from the ritualistic aspects of smoking, as do all smokers, to some extent, get physical pleasure out of inhaling tobacco smoke.

Two Vital Points

Two other points may be made at this time. One is that the act of inhaling must be considered somewhat more minutely than has been the case in the past. The other is that a person may start out being a smoker in one category and wind up in one of the others.

Taking the latter instance first, it can be said that most smokers who are still in the "light" category after a year or so of smoking will probably always remain there.

What usually happens is that the heavy or addicted smoker begins to smoke at the rate of about a pack a day within a few weeks after becoming a smoker.

The act of inhaling smoke—the way it's done; when it's done—we must recognize the fact that so-called "unconscious inhaling" is by no means the same as regular, ordinary inhaling. The pipe or cigaret smoker who does not deliberately inhale is smoking for quite a different reason than does the cigaret smoker who forcibly draws cigaret smoke into his throat and bronchial tubes and into his lungs.

Besides the point (perhaps extremely important) that this type of light smoker is smoking for different reasons and may be a totally different type of personality, there is the simple fact that the actual, physical smoke is not being forcibly drawn into the lungs with great impact upon the areas involved.

These considerations may also have bearing on the fact that medium, heavy, and addicted smokers seldom if ever succeed either in "cutting down" their intake of smoke, or in changing permanently to pipes or cigars.

Small Minority

This type of smoker probably compromises, very roughly, about 45 per cent of the cigaret-smoking population, whereas our light smokers are a small minority of perhaps 5 to 7 per cent.

The medium smoker averages about a pack a day around the calendar, that is, 18 to 22 cigarets from breakfast to bedtime.

Every now and then this smoker decides that he wants to quit. He suddenly finds that he wants to prove his superiority over the habit, or smoking becomes a nuisance (perhaps he spends much time in libraries or laboratories or theatres where smoking is prohibited), or any number of reasons.

So he quits. He really does, too. He makes up his mind, throws his smoking paraphernalia into the incinerator, announces to all that he's forsaking the noxious weed, and quits.

He wants a cigaret pretty badly the first few days (four, usually); he is fairly irritable; he finds his hand straying into the cigaret pocket many times a day. But he sticks to his guns and, after two or three weeks, doesn't have much trouble.

However, our own survey did indicate that a sizeable majority of these smokers did eventually return to smoking.

And why not? They had experienced no untoward physical or psychological symptoms in the first place.

If you've smoked normally, and tried quitting normally and successfully, why not smoke? It's up to you.

'Wrong' Note Convinces Adjudicator

By BERT BINNY

The Greater Victoria Music Festival continued yesterday when more than 100 pianists and more than 70 vocalists competed.

Adjudicator Boris Roubakine once more praised the pianists for the evident hard work they had all done on their test pieces.

WRONG NOTE

Cheryl Borris scored three separate marks of 87 to win two 14-and-under classes and was commended by the adjudicator for, among other triumphs, her "convincing wrong note" at the conclusion of one piece.

In the vocal division, Pamela Paver continued her winning ways with an 88 in the sacred solo (female) class.

THREE FINALISTS

A preliminary class in the female operatic section was held in the afternoon and the finalists were Terry French, Eunice Dockree and Peggy Walton Packard.

The evening program continued in both the vocal and piano divisions, including the finals in the operatic section and the first of the concerto classes in piano.

Results:

'Bonus Game' Legal

VANCOUVER (CP)—A shopping game played by thousands of B.C. housewives with the hope of winning part of $18,000 in prizes Tuesday was ruled legal.

Magistrate Gordon Scott, in dismissing charges against Shop-Easy Stores (B.C.) Ltd. and 13 of its officials, ruled the "bonus game" operated by the grocery retailers does not break the lotteries law.

His ruling was based on the fact some skill was needed and on a 1956 ruling in Saskatchewan that such a scheme was a contract between customer and trader and not a matter of chance.

Fill-In Conversion of Rock Bay to Usable Land 'Interesting,' Says Dowell

Plan of the Crowe Gonnason Lumber Co. Ltd. to fill part of Rock Bay and thereby create a larger block of unused land in the area for commercial or industrial development was described by Acting Mayor Arthur Dowell yesterday as "interesting and worth looking into."

City Engineer James Garnett gave it an even more favorable reception.

"It fits in with city plans, and with certain provisions, I would be glad to see it go through," he said. "We would require a road connecting Store and Rock Bay, and storm drains. But it would fit in extremely well with any one-way street plans we may want to suggest in the future."

The city's long-term planning has included a bridge across the bay linking Rock Bay and Store as a truck route.

The lumber company informed the city yesterday that it wishes to apply to the transport department to acquire the part of the bay east of a line joining Store and Rock Bay, with the object of eventually filling it in.

Consent of the city is necessary because two blind 'reets end on the bay.

The filled areas would add four acres to Crowe Gonnason's 7½-acre property on Government and Bay. Much of the property is now vacant as the result of a February fire which destroyed the company's closed-down mill.

'University Drive' Suggested

Foul Bay Road No More?

Narrow, broken Foul Bay Road between Fort and Lansdowne may someday become well-paved, attractive University Drive, if a suggestion from Public Works Minister W. N. Chant is followed.

In almost all of that distance, Foul Bay Road is the dividing line between Oak Bay and Saanich, and, Mr. Chant observed yesterday, the two municipalities "don't seem to be able to get together" on improving it.

"It's desperately in need of being improved and brought up to a high standard, and it leads right up to the university," he said.

He suggested that the Capital Improvement District Commission could give consideration to improving the road as another beautification project within its scope, and added, "It could be called University Drive, or something like that."

Chamber To Study Change

A special meeting of the directors of Victoria Chamber of Commerce will be held Thursday to consider a suggestion that the name of Foul Bay Road should be changed to "University Way."

The road leads to the Lansdowne Road property which is part of the present site of Victoria University.

All Area Police To Honor Kirby

Giant Mushrooms Flourish

Inspecting a giant morel mushroom—about five times the normal size—is Mrs. Trudy Oppitz, 588 Toronto. The mushroom, considered by some fungus fanciers as the most tasty of all, was found by George Reid, 837 North Park. It can be found fairly easily at this time of year, growing in the Greater Victoria area.—(Colonist photo.)

Pallbearers Brother Policemen

Saanich municipality's entire 21-man police force will be in attendance at a funeral at 3 p.m. today for fellow officer, Constable Robert Kirby, who died in a gun battle Sunday.

Saanich police officials said yesterday that off-duty Victoria police will maintain order in the municipality for a part of the afternoon so the whole Saanich force can attend the rites.

OAK BAY PATROL

An Oak Bay patrol car will look after the Cadboro Bay area.

The funeral, which will take place at Sands funeral home with Rev. J. Rogers officiating, is expected to be one of the largest here in recent years.

On hand will be a 30-man contingent from the Royal Canadian Navy, 40 members of the Victoria force, 12 from the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, plus groups from Oak Bay, Esquimalt and Central Saanich.

SINGLE SHOT

The 31-year-old constable was killed by a single shot from a rifle discharged by an escaped asylum inmate Sunday evening. He will be laid to rest at Royal Oak Burial Park.

Honorary pallbearers will be Saanich Acting Reeve George Austin, police commissioners Stanley Eden and George Askey, Saanich Police Chief W. A. Pearson and Deputy Chief J. R. Hamilton, Victoria Police Chief John Blackstock and Deputy Chief Harry Mercer, Oak Bay Police Chief Robert Smith, Esquimalt Police Chief Gilbert Stancombe, army provost marshal Capt. A. E. Wilson; Saanich prosecutors L. G. McKenzie and Kenneth Murphy.

PALLBEARERS

Pallbearers, all fellow officers from the Saanich force, will be Det. Robin Stewart, Det. George Walton, Juvenile Officer D. E. Anderson, Cpl. Robert Coleman, Cpl. Frank Briers, Const. Charles Trueit.

Following the rites, police and naval contingents will march along Quadra Street to Pembroke where they will embark on buses which will take them to the cemetery.

A Victoria police motorcycle escort will accompany the funeral procession.

Chiefs Can't Dampen Firemen-Police Plan

Ambulance Entirely Under Fire Department

Lack of enthusiasm by Chief Constable W. A. Pearson and Fire Chief Joseph Law last night failed to stop Saanich finance committee from favoring a plan for firemen to take over four duties at present handled by police.

The four duties, as recommended by the Saanich Police Commission, are:

- Supervising school road safety patrols.
- Checking of vacant houses while the owners are absent.
- Checking of commercial premises at night to see that they are secure.
- The serving of summonses.

Later, the committee decided to buy and equip a new ambulance at a cost of $12,600 and put the service entirely under the fire department. At present it is shared by the fire and police departments.

FOUR-MAN CUT

And Reeve George Chatterton, chairman of the police commission, asked councillors to consider a suggestion that four men be cut from the strength of the fire department.

The commission's report to the finance committee followed a request by Police Chief Pearson for four more men. The request was made before the tragic death Sunday of Const. Robert Kirby.

All members of the council are members of the finance committee. Coun. George Austin is chairman of the finance committee.

ONE PER 1,000

Chief Pearson pointed out to council that most municipalities have one policeman to every 1,000 persons living in the area. Saanich, with a population of 45,000 to 46,000, has only 21 men.

"We are the lowest police department in Canada," he said.

Police commissioner Sanley Eden, a former Saanich councillor, told the meeting he felt that amalgamation of the fire and police departments is inevitable "sooner or later."

REDUCE RATE

"Are we going to reduce this mill rate?" Coun. Austin asked. "If we don't reduce it in the police department or fire department we will have to reduce public works expenditure.

"We can't go back to the old system and rob public works, we are growing too fast."

Mr. Chatterton finally moved that the committee recommend the police commission's report to council. The fire and police chiefs were ordered to report to council on the feasibility of the plan.

Const. Angus Stuart, secretary of Victoria police union, and Eric Simmons, president of Victoria firemen's union, attended the meeting but did not address the committee.

Heads Militia

New commander of 25 Militia Group, Vancouver Island, is Col. L. W. Johnson, 128 Wellington Avenue, Victoria. His new appointment climaxes 39 years of army service. He succeeds Brig. J. S. Adam, head of the militia here for five years.

Rate Boost Application Ready Soon

A Greater Victoria water board application to increase water rates in the rural area is being prepared and will be ready for submission to the Public Utilities Commission "probably next week," an offical said yesterday.

The PUC then is expected to set a date by which protests, if any, must be filed.

The water board decided March 30 to make the application to boost water rates about $15 a year for the average customer beyond the borders of Greater Victoria. Earlier, it had increased wholesale water rates for the Greater Victoria municipalities by 30 per cent, and Commissioner Ronald Upward said rural rates must be raised if the "outside" customers were going to pay their fair share of operating and construction costs.

The water board has about 4,000 customers outside Greater Victoria, mostly in the View Royal-Colwood-Langford area.

Jaycee Fair Quarrel Patched Up

The Junior Chamber of Commerce, the arena commission and city officials, in an hour-long meeting behind closed doors, last night patched up their differences and agreed that the Victoria Industrial and Agricultural Exhibition will be held as planned from May 16 to 21—with the return here of Gayland Shows carnival.

The meeting broke a deadlock which threatened to cause cancellation of the annual fair held in Memorial Arena and the Curling Rink.

Friday the arena commission refused to deal with the Jaycee application to bring the carnival here and the Jaycees countered by saying they may hold their fair in Saanich, Oak Bay or Esquimalt in future years.

As a result of last night's meeting, however, the arena commission will forward to city council a recommendation that council grant permission for the carnival, and the 120-member Jaycee group accepted responsibility of helping city police keep order on the midway.

"There were one or two misunderstandings," said arena commission chairman F. G. Mulliner. "But we thrashed out everything from soup to nuts."

Decision Pending On Office Choice

A decision remains to be reached, Public Works Minister W. N. Chant said yesterday, on the provincial offices to be housed in the existing Victoria Courthouse after the new Law Courts are opened.

Success?

Canvass Result Unknown

It won't be known for a few days if the residential canvass for the Victoria University building fund was a success—but all indications are favorable.

Fund officials said canvassers have reported sizeable donations and one volunteer worker used up 80 pledge cards, found more house holders were interested, then received 50 more cards to continue her calls.

MOP-UP DRIVE

The two-day mop-up canvass, last major operation of the $2,500,000 building fund drive, officially wound up last night but canvassers will make second calls on prospects who wanted time to make up their minds.

Mrs. Daryl Elford, who organized the home canvass, said last night it would be "pure guesswork" to try and assess results at this early stage.

COMPLETE COVERAGE

She said coverage of Greater Victoria was as complete as possible under the circumstances, but urged anyone who was missed and still wished to make a donation to call at fund headquarters in the B.C. Electric building or phone EV 5-3455 in the next few days.

New Sign Bylaw Ready for Action

A new draft of a sign bylaw for the city is ready for submission to a special committee early in May, assistant city engineer Roderick Clack said yesterday.

The special committee, including Ald. Rev. J. L. W. McLean and sign company representatives and Mr. Clack, was instructed to work on a new draft after sign companies attacked a previous draft as too restrictive and public works committee "filed" or rejected it.

The new draft, with "a different approach," will be studied by the special committee and then submitted to public works committee for its consideration.

Police Shooting Probe Incomplete

A Saanich police official said yesterday that a probe into all the circumstances surrounding the shooting of a police constable by an escaped mental-home patient on Sunday "is still not complete."

He said that an inquest scheduled for 10 a.m. today will probably be adjourned following formal identification of the body of Constable Robert Norman Kirby, 31, killed by a bullet in the heart.

An adjournment will be requested in order to complete police investigation of the case.

Meanwhile, two provincial departments joined yesterday in ordering full reports on the shooting.

The attorney-general's department and the health services department requested the reports.

Shift System

Student Reshuffle Forced in Saanich

Overcrowded classrooms in rural Saanich have resulted in a student reshuffle in School District 63 and a shift system for junior high school students.

School board chairman James D. Helps announced yesterday Royal Oak Junior-Senior High School will be made a senior high serving students in the Royal Oak-Mount Newton area. In line with this plan Mount Newton Junior-Senior High School will be made a junior high school for the same area.

At least five extra teachers will be needed to teach the large number of junior high school students in the widespread area.

Classes at the junior high will be placed on a double shift system with complete "school days" in the mornings and afternoons.

At the senior high, where the number of students is not so great, teaching will be carried out on a regular basis.

The new plan will go into effect in September. School officials are still working out details of the school bus system required by the new plan.

Rally Friday On Welfare

Annual public meeting of the Community Welfare Council of Greater Victoria will be held at 8 p.m. Friday at Spencerhouse, 1951 Cook. Eric Smith, executive secretary of the family and child welfare division of the Canadian Welfare Council at Ottawa, will speak.

Fly Wrecks Car Shakes Driver

Herbert Baldwin, 1461 Hamley, took a swipe at a fly while driving down Wallace Drive yesterday.

Police said later his truck went out of control, took out 11 guard posts and skidded 150 feet, coming to rest in a 12-foot-deep ditch.

The driver was discharged from St. Joseph's Hospital after a check-up. Damage to the truck was estimated at $500.

The fly escaped without injuries.

Your Problems

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: If I'm going a little crazy I wish you'd tell me. I wouldn't dare mention this to anyone else.

I don't know when all this started but whenever I leave the house it has become a habit to test every one of the gas jets even though I haven't used the stove during the day. I must try the door knob from the outside four times—once for each member of the family.

When I enter my mother-in-law's home (every Sunday) I have the habit of stepping into her house with my right foot first, to be sure that everything will be all right on that visit. (I've had my troubles with her.)

Please tell me what all this means, and if you think I'm losing my mind. Should I seek outside help?—DORIS.

Dear Doris: Alomst everyone has a few secret (and perhaps odd) mannerisms. So long as they don't interfere with your daily living, there's nothing to become alarmed about.

Try to conquer these compulsions one at a time, as a matter of personal victory. Next Sunday, when you go to your mother-in-law's, lead with the left foot and then make a special effort to be friendly. If everything comes off all right you have a good start in beating that superstition.

Telling someone about these little habits is the first step toward conquering them. It makes them less awesome. I invite all readers to jot down their secret compulsions (no matter how odd) and send them to me as the first step in getting rid of them.

Too Much at Home

Dear Ann: I'm a mother who must work because the child support cheque from my former husband is inadequate.

My housekeeper is a lovely, capable person but she's made herself so completely at home in my house that it's irritating.

She has a large number of relatives and friends who make my address their lunch headquarters.

My coffee canister is always empty. I can't keep a piece of sandwich meat or cheese in the place. This woman's niece comes twice a week to shampoo her hair (with my shampoo.) The utility and water bills are double what they used to be — not to mention the grocery bill.

I don't wish to appear petty, but I'd like to know what to do.—FAYE.

Dear Faye: This will never get better, it'll only get worse. If you tell her to cut it out she'll be resentful and an icy barrier will be set up between you.

Find another housekeeper and outline your requirements in advance.

Answer Yes or No

Dear Ann: My husband and I think you are sensible. Will you please answer us with a yes or a no. We are aware of all the reasons on both sides, so you needn't go into detail. If you say yes we'll know why. If you say no we'll understand that, too.

Our 16-year-old daughter has been invited by the parents of her steady boy friend to join them on a three-week trip this summer. They plan to see the country in a trailer.

Their son is an only child, as is our daughter. It would be just the four of them. Is it yes or no? — WAITING TO HEAR.

Dear Waiting: It's no—and thank you for making this day so easy!

Does almost everyone have a good time but you? If so, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "How To Be Well-Liked," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Tips for Parents

Happy Children Accept Responsibility Early

By HELEN R. HEWSON

"I want my child to be completely happy," was the ingenuous statement of the mother of a four-year-old. As she went on to describe her hopes and aspirations for this little girl, it was obvious that mother coveted for her a blissful existence free of all hurt, disappointment or frustration.

POOR PREPARATION

She might be able to manage a completely care-free life for the child in the first early years, but this is poor preparation, for both parent and child, for the demands and challenges that lie ahead.

Happiness is a sometime thing, not a continuous state of uninterrupted joy. It is the by-product of many different kinds of experiences, some pleasant, others not so pleasant.

* * *

The happiest people are not those who have been spared unpleasantness, but those who have learned to handle their difficulties.

The child playing on the floor with her toys may be quite happy, when asked to put them away and get ready for supper. The putting away, the tidying up, getting ready for the next activity, is part of a reasonable and useful routine.

Learning to accept and carry out her small duties helps to develop her own feeling of self-confidence and accomplishments, makes some contribution to her happiness.

* * *

Children do not always play happily together. There are frequent and fleeting quarrels, part of the give and take, part of learning to get along with each other.

Children need to begin these lessons early in life, to assess their own and the other fellow's strengths and limitations.

It would be a mistake to deny a child this experience, the experience of meeting and handling difficulties in a spirit of co-operation and compromise.

These lessons are learned slowly and often painfully over the years. Without them there can be little happiness in our relationships with others.

* * *

The child who is protected and coddled, who is saved from unhappy and uncomfortable experiences will have a rough time as he or she leaves the four walls of home and goes forth in the neighborhood and the school.

Simple Ingredients Go Into Meat Loaf

By LOUISE MOORE

With little more than a dime in my pocketbook, I think I am rich indeed when I gaze out our window and see the raindrops on the old oak tree, the evening birds in their bright coats busily searching food and in the air the first taste of spring.

Who could ask for more. Happiness does not depend upon material things—unless its materials for a substantial and enjoyable meal—food we can't do without, can we? So here is a new kind of meat loaf — the materials, ground raw ham and pork and a few other simple ingredients you'll find on your pantry shelf.

HAM LOAF WITH CREAMY MUSTARD SAUCE

In a large mixing bowl beat 2 eggs and stir in ¾ cup water, 1 package chicken with rice soup and 2 tblsp. brown sugar. Mix in 1½ pounds ground ham and ½ pound ground pork.

Mix to blend and shape into a loaf in baking dish or pack into loaf pan. Bake at 400 F. for 1 hour. Serve with sauteed pineapple rings and this

CREAMY MUSTARD SAUCE

Combine 1 cup sour cream, 3 tblsp. packaged onion soup and 3 to 4 tblsp. prepared mustard. Heat until well blended. Serve warm with loaf.

Gay Printed Towels

Hand-printed linen tea towels made in Scotland with flamboyant colors would add a lively note to any kitchen.

Some are copies of theatre bills, in old fashioned script announcing a performance. Others picture large fruits and crazy patterns. These good sized towels are strong and are selling at $1.25 and $1.50.

* * *

Crown Staffordshire cups and saucers decorated with birds are newly arrived from England. There is a choice of four designs. Set costs $1.75.

* * *

Need a new saucepan? There are several "specials" in kitchenwear on at present.

One well-known brand of saucepan, 4-quart size, has a free offer of a frying pan, to go with it. The lid fits both pans. Offer is priced at $6.95.

A copper-bottomed, stainless steel, covered saucepan, small size, is now selling at $6.66. Usual price is $8.95.

* * *

A variety of kitchen utensils are now coming on to the market with ebony handles and include just about everything from can openers to egg beaters. These are the same prices as the old type wooden handles.

Wooden handled utensils are being sold at two for the price of one.

Useful gadget for carpet cleaning is the carpeteer at present on sale at $9.88 reduced from $12.95.

This long-handled cleaner has a sponge rubber roller and brushes. Solution mixed with water is poured into a tank on the handle and seeps through to the roller, making carpet shampooing as simple as can be. Price includes a tin of the solution.

Western RED CEDAR Bevel SIDING

"Keystone" clear kiln dried siding is the finest available—a quality material for all applications where perfection is required.

THE LUMBER

Western red cedar lumber is noted for its exceptional durability, lightweight and beautiful color, ranging from almost pure white of the narrow sapwood to reddish brown heartwood. It is very easily worked, is free from pitch, takes and holds stains, paints and enamels excellently, and is superior for glueing. Because of these qualities, Western red cedar is especially adaptable for use as bevel siding for quality homes.

DURABILITY

Western red cedar is one of the most durable species known. Its heartwood is highly resistant to decay, and can be counted on for long and worthy service where conditions favoring decay prevail.

WEATHERING CHARACTERISTICS

Left exposed without paint or other protective finishes, Western red cedar weathers to an intriguing grey color having little or no sheen. It is one of the most stable species of lumber, having very little tendency to cup and pull loose from fastenings when exposed to the weather.

INSULATING QUALITIES

Western red cedar has the highest insulating value of all commonly used soft woods--another point in its favor as siding, and of particular importance when used as roof decking.

During the past seven years we have grown from a small open produce stand to the largest hundred per cent independently owned and operated super-market in British Columbia. This tremendous growth has resulted because of our ever-growing number of loyal and satisfied customers. As we enter into another year of business we would like to take this opportunity to express our sincere thanks to these many loyal customers for their continued patronage. The pleasant association we share with our customers is a great joy and satisfaction to us; and we look forward to many more years of serving you.

"F. M. ROSS"
Lieutenant-Governor
CANADA
PROVINCE OF BRITISH COLUMBIA
ELIZABETH the SECOND, by the Grace of God, of the United Kingdom, Canada and Her other Realms and Territories, Queen, Head of the Commonwealth, Defender of the Faith.
To all to whom these presents shall come—
GREETING,
"W. D. BLACK,"
Minister of Municipal Affairs,
WHEREAS it is provided by section 22 of the "Municipal Act," being chapter 43 of the Statutes of 1957, that whenever it is made to appear to the satisfaction of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council that the whole or any portion of the adjoining foreshore and any area below low-water mark should be included in a municipality the Lieutenant-Governor in Council may by supplementary Letters Patent redefine or alter the boundaries of that municipality;
AND WHEREAS The Corporation of the District of Oak Bay was by Letters Patent incorporated as a district municipality;
AND WHEREAS the Council of the said district municipality has represented that a portion of the adjoining foreshore and an area below low-water mark should be included in the municipality;
AND WHEREAS the Council of the said district municipality has requested the Lieutenant-Governor in Council to redefine the boundaries of The Corporation of the District of Oak Bay;
NOW KNOW YE that by these presents We do order and proclaim that on, from, and after the date of these supplementary Letters Patent the boundaries of The Corporation of the District of Oak Bay be deemed to be and are hereby defined as: The whole of that part of Victoria District lying to the east of the City of Victoria, more particularly described as follows: Commencing at the north-west corner of Section 31; thence south-easterly and following the northly boundary of said Section 31 to a point where the said boundary, if extended southeasterly in a straight line, would touch low-water mark on Cadboro Bay; thence in a general southerly direction and following the simuosities of low-water mark adjacent to the easterly boundary of said Section 31 to a point due south of Cattle Point; thence south-westerly in a straight line to a point on the south-westerly low-water mark of Oak Bay which lies due north of the most northerly point on the northerly boundary of Lot 1, of Section 23, as shown on Registered Plan 4521; thence in a general southerly and westerly direction and following the simuosities of low-water mark adjacent to Sections 23, 72, 22, 46 and 19 to the easterly boundary of the City of Victoria; thence northerly and following the eastern boundary of the said city to the north-east corner of Section 76; thence northerly along the western boundary lines of Sections 39 and 31 to the point of commencement, and including adjacent islands and the foreshore adjoining the same, containing by measurement 1,460 acres of land and 300 acres of land covered by water, more or less:
AND THAT the Letters Patent of the said district be deemed to be amended so as to conform to the premises as and from the date of these Letters Patent.
IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, we have caused these Our Letters to be made Patent and the Great Seal of Our said Province to be hereunto affixed.
WITNESS, the HONOURABLE FRANK MACKENZIE ROSS, C.M.G., M.C., LL.D., Lieutenant-Governor of Our said Province, in Our City of Victoria, in Our said Province, this 7th day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and sixty, and in the ninth year of Our Reign.
By Command.
"W. D. BLACK,"
Provincial Secretary.

HOW YOUR LIVER BILE HELPS BREAK DOWN FATS
IN THE DIGESTIVE TRACT

Laboratory tests have now proved that liver bile emulsifies fats . . . actually breaks them down. It is an established fact that when liver bile is added to fatty solids, the fats are broken down and form a smooth, easy-flowing mix.

In your digestive tract, liver bile helps break down fats the same way. Many of the foods you eat reach the digestive tract as undigested fatty solids. Your golden liver bile helps break down these fats . . . for easier and more complete digestion.

Carter's Little Liver Pills' exclusive formula of vegetable ingredients relieves irregularity gently and effectively. At the same time, it actually improves the flow of liver bile needed to break down fats in your digestive tract.

So when you feel sluggish, headachy, nervous and need a laxative, take Carter's Little Liver Pills.

Remember, Carter's not only relieve irregularity, but actually improve the flow of liver bile. Get Carter's Little Liver Pills today!

Rescue Chiefs Named

OTTAWA (CP) — Appointment of marine rescue co-ordinators for the east and west coasts was announced Tuesday —the first step in a government program for improving the efficiency of air-sea rescue operations.

Capt. J. C. Barbour of Vancouver will be co-ordinator for the west coast, with headquarters in Vancouver. His east coast counterpart will be Capt. D. B. Stanton of St. John's, Nfld., operating from Halifax.

Both are with the transport department's marine services branch. Capt. Barbour is a veteran of wartime service with the Royal Canadian Navy and Capt. Stanton, former RAF squadron leader, helped organize search and rescue operations in India and Burma during the Second World War.

Councillor Threatens to Quit — Alberni Mayor 'On Strike'

'Laughing-Stock' Council at Brink?

ALBERNI — A veteran Alberni alderman is considering resigning his seat in protest against the manner in which council meetings are conducted, according to a statement made Monday as dissension reigned in council chambers.

Ald. Fred Bishop announced his idea of resigning and also suggested that his fellow aldermen join him.

REPRIMAND

Mayor Mabel Anderson's, refusal to sign minutes of the previous regular meeting touched off a controversy which was highlighted by a mayoral reprimand of the city clerk, Ald. Bishop's suggested resignation and an incident in which council relieved the mayor of the chairmanship of the meeting.

The mayor declared that the minutes of April 11 had misrepresented her contentions in regard to an agreement for purchase of land for the proposed Kitsuksis Creek bridge on Gertrude Street. She had at that time refused to sign the offer of sale although council had authorized the signature.

WOULDN'T SIGN

The minutes were passed as circulated, but the mayor declined to affix her signature. She instructed city clerk Jim Sawyer to amend them according to her instructions. Mr. Sawyer was the object of her reprimand when he declined to do so on the grounds that he must take his instructions from council.

He said that the mayor was making his job most difficult and that his situation was becoming untenable. He was backed up in his statement of being bound by council's instructions in an opinion given by city solicitor R. J. Ohs.

Ald. Bishop accused the mayor of "stalling" negotiations on the bridge and Ald. T. S. Barnett said that Mayor Anderson was neglecting the duty of her office by staging a "sit-down strike."

"This is a serious action and, in my opinion, you are abrogating the oath of your office," he said.

LAUGHING STOCK

The situation is making Alberni council the laughing stock of the country, Ald. Blair declared.

It was only after Ohs, replying to a query from Ald. Bishop, gave the opinion that it is within the powers of the council to adopt the minutes over objections of the mayor, that Mayor Anderson signed the page and business got under way.

The meeting again bogged down when the mayor questioned a $3,000 item in the list of accounts. At a previous meeting, over her protests, council had approved payment of the amount to cover costs of moving a duplex and other expenses connected with the disputed property at the proposed bridge approach.

DEADLINE

The motion for payment of accounts had been proposed and seconded but the vote had not been called when Mayor Anderson announced that the 10 p.m. deadline for conclusion of the meeting had arrived. A motion for extension of time was defeated when the mayor and Ald. Gordon Lundie voted in the negative.

As the meeting adjourned, Ald. Blair commented that no progress had been made since January. Ald. Bishop stated that there is now even more reason for council to consider resigning.

U.S. Plans to Crash Spaceship on Moon

WASHINGTON (AP)—The civilian space agency unveiled plans Tuesday to crash a 500-pound spacecraft on the moon at more than 5,000 miles an hour, its television cameras taking pictures to its end.

The plans also call for a 300-pound package of instruments to be carried to the moon by the spacecraft and detach just before the spacecraft crash, for a fairly gentle landing.

The first United States effort to place something useful on the moon is scheduled within the next two years.

The over-all cost of the spacecraft-capsule combination was estimated at $10,000,000.

Latin Lover in Hot Spot After Pursuing Senorita

QUINCY, Wash. (AP)—Pursuit of a pretty senorita put a Latin-American lover in a hot spot.

Bernando Tamez, 22, nearly suffocated at the bottom of a brick chimney. Police and firemen smashed a hole to free him.

The young farm laborer and a companion, leaving a tavern Monday night, waved at two girls. The girls ignored them.

Tamez found his way to one of the girl's homes and climbed to the roof. Weighing only 120 pounds, he started down the chimney.

But, carramba! There was no fireplace, only a vent for a chimney pipe to enter. Fire burned in the stove. Luckily, he dropped below the level of the vent.

A rope was dropped down the chimney. Tamez was stuck fast.

A hole was smashed through the brick. Tamez was freed and given oxygen. He said he meant no harm.

He was jailed as a public nuisance.

Bennett's 'Bondfire' Best B.C. Publicity

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vaughan Lyon, provincial Liberal candidate, claims Premier Bennett's "bondfire" at Kelowna last summer did more to publicize British Columbia than all the money spent by the government tourist bureau in the last five years.

"By the time the affair was finished Canadians from coast to coast were chuckling and the part where the premier shot a flaming arrow at a barge loaded with bonds was excellent slapstick humor."

Yank, Gendarme Cussin' Cousins

PARIS (AP)—A Paris judge ruled Monday that swearing is internationally understood, regardless of the language.

The case came up when a U.S. soldier, picked up in a Rue Pigalle night spot after an argument, was charged with insulting a police officer.

It was brought out in court that the soldier spoke no French and the policeman spoke no English. How then could the policeman understand the insults? asked the defence.

The judge ruled that profanity was internationally understood, and the soldier was guilty of using it liberally. He was given a 15-day suspended sentence.

Marine Drive Work Will Begin Soon

Widening of the road and provision of parking areas along Marine Drive will begin in about three weeks, Saanich Reeve George Chatterton said last night.

A $56,000 grant for the work was recently approved by the Capital Improvement District Commission. The section of road to be improved is about 1¼ miles long, from the Oak Bay boundary to the Cadboro Bay-Gyro Park.

"It is money well spent," Mr. Chatterton commented. "The work is one of the major steps in developing Gyro Park into the only major land-sea park in Greater Victoria."

Pedestrian Hit, Hurt

Mrs. Evelyn McKay, 70, 539 Joffre, a pedestrian, received a broken leg when she was struck by a car at Vancouver and Yates at 10.15 last night. She is in satisfactory condition at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Police said the car was driven by Mrs. Tirzah Esther Hollins, 936 St. Patrick.

CBC Ordered to Explain Petain-de Gaulle 'Clash'

OTTAWA (UPI)— Revenue Minister Nowlan said Tuesday he had asked the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation for an explanation of its broadcast of a television program on French traitor Marshal Petain the day President Charles de Gaulle arrived for his Canadian visit.

Nowlan, who reports to parliament for the publicly-owned CBC made the statement in the Commons when questioned by Lionel Chevrier, Montreal Liberal.

The Way of the Worry-Free

There's the high road and the low road — many are the lanes that lead from here to there.

The anxious road. The fretful road. The hazardous road — the rough and the smooth, the swift and the adventurous.

And there are those who think of all of these when they plan to go from here to there.

Ask the venturer who leaves his car behind why he rides with Canadian National Railways. Invariably you will find his reason in these half-dozen simple words — it's the way of the worry-free.

Luxury, restfulness. Quiet and roomy comfort. The courteous, the gracious air — all of these are there.

But beyond these is assurance.

It is this, contrasted with the teeming and relentless traffic of today's highways, that is making a growing number of motorists say — "when it's over 100 miles, I take the train."

Kirby Fund Tops $2,000 Expected to Go Higher

The fund to aid the young widow and four children of Saanich Const. Robert Kirby, who was shot to death Sunday, skyrocketed yesterday.

The fund passed the $2,000 mark by last night and is expected to go still higher before it is ended. As a member of Saanich police department, Const. Kirby was covered by a $5,000 insurance policy. (See also page 13.)

'MORE LIKE A JAIL' MENTAL HOME LABEL

Treatment Plan Probe Demanded

Colquitz mental hospital is "more jail than institution," organizer of a group of women volunteers, who visit inmates weekly, charged here last night as a call was raised to investigate the institution's entire treatment program—not just security measures.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Edith Frankham said that during her weekly visits in the past six months she found no evidence of a treatment program at Colquitz where an inmate escaped Sunday touching off a gun battle in which a policeman died and a guard was wounded. (See also Page 13.)

STEPPED DOWN

Head of the volunteer visitors program, which she started last October, recently stepped down as president of the Victoria branch, Canadian Mental Health Association, after two years.

Her comments were made following a statement in Vancouver by J. D. Ward, executive secretary of the B.C. division, Canadian Mental Health Association, who said, "It's time we decided whether Colquitz is a hospital or a jail."

EXTEND STUDY

Mr. Ward called on authorities investigating shooting Sunday of Saanich police Const. Ronald Kirby by an inmate to extend their study to institution's entire treatment program — not just security measures.

"There isn't any treatment program, as far as I can ascertain," said Mrs. Frankham.

She said the mental hospital is located in an "old jail" building which has been pressed into service for inmates who "haven't responded to treatment in centres on the mainland."

SIX TO EIGHT

She said six to eight women volunteers go out to Colquitz every week to play cards and bingo with inmates. The women bring cakes and special treats for the occasions.

Despite some "trepidation and uneasiness" on the part of the volunteers at first, and the suspicious attitude adopted by most inmates, the program has worked out "very well," said Mrs. Frankham.

ACCEPTED

"It took a while," she said, "but we have been accepted as friends who are there because we want to come."

Mr. Ward said: "We are only asking for trouble when we maintain institutions like Colquitz and call them horpitals.

"The condition of patients who enter this barren setting —with its cells and its windows 14 feet above the floor —is more likely to grow worse than improve."

ONLY $28

He said only $28 per patient was spent for medical care in the entire year ending March 31, 1959. This compared with Essondale and Crease Clinic, also provincially-operated which had respective totals of $225 and $931 per patient year.

Const. Kirby was stopped in his tracks by a .22 calibre rifle bullet through the heart as he pursued the inmate, Raymond Harold, in bushland some distance from the institution.

Harold also wounded guard Frank Goad in the shoulder before himself being felled by a police bullet in the leg.

MUCH DEEPER

Mr. Ward said the trouble at Colquitz "goes much deeper" than Saanich police chief W. A. Pearson indicated when he charged laxity in security at the institution.

"There's no point in merely blaming the government," he said.

"It has been proven time and again that bars are not needed at mental hospitals where there is sufficient staff and an effective treatment program."

He said incidents like the one Sunday are likely to recur as long as hospitals like Colquitz continue to exist, and said a study now under way would be a waste of time unless the entire treatment program is examined by competent people.

Mrs. Frankham said she agreed fully with the statements by Mr. Ward. But she added the public must accept part of the blame. "The public is apathetic, unaware, disinterested, and as long as the majority of people remain in that state patients will be put in places like Colquitz," she said.

BEST CLOTHES

Inmates at Colquitz have blossomed out in their best clothes, clean-shaven, and wearing ties for the weekly visits by volunteers. Most play cards and bingo with "gusto and enthusiasm" after losing their initial suspicions.

Mrs. Frankham said Harold was "always cheerful, with a smile and a big hullo" when the visitors came, and it was a shock to those who knew and liked him to read of Sunday's incident.

Korea to Vote Before Aug. 1

SEOUL (AP)—Syngman Rhee, founder of the Republic of Korea, resigned as president today after six weeks of violent public demonstrations against his autocratic rule.

Foreign Minister Huh Chung, senior member of the government, anounced after a two-hour conference with the 85-year-old president that Rhee had sent his formal resignation to the national assembly.

PROMPT ACTION

The assembly was expected to accept it promptly.

Rhee ended his 12 years of power after weeks of mounting violence arising from charges of fraud in the March 15 presidential elections.

CARETAKER

After the resignation is accepted, a caretaker government will take over until elections for president, vice-president and national assembly can be held within three months, before Aug. 1.

Huh, as ranking member of the cabinet, will head the caretaker regime.

Huh is a 62-year-old independent and former acting premier.

SENIOR MAN

Rhee named him senior man in a new cabinet this week after a cabinet from the president's Liberal party resigned. Vice-President John Chang, leader of the anti-Rhee Democratic party, resigned last week. He is considered a likely candidate for the presidency.

HUGE RIOTS

To end the huge, anti-government demonstrations in which at least 145 persons had died in the last week, Rhee Tuesday ordered new elections, told vice-president Lee Ki-poong to give up all his public posts and said he would himself resign if the people wanted him to.

TUMULTUOUS

A tumultuous 26 hours of steady rioting and demonstrations ended at curfew time Tuesday after more than 100,000 Koreans crowded Seoul streets, celebrating Rhee's announcement.

Today the city of 2,000,000 persons resumed something of a normal appearance.

CO-OPERATING

Leaders of the historic upheaval were co-operating with the South Korean Army to bring order back to the troubled nation.

Students replaced Rhee's hated national police in directing traffic in much of Seoul.

14 Nations Rebuke Korea

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Representatives of 14 nations that fought in Korea under the UN flag called Tuesday for early action to "permit the orderly functioning of democratic government" in South Korea.

A statement issued after a 90-minute meeting of the representatives at the State Department came in the wake of U.S. appeals to Syngman Rhee to "redress the grievances of the Korean people" against his government.

South Africa boycotted the conference. South Korea was not invited.

All the diplomats were said to have been aware of the danger that North Korea might use the anti-Rhee riots as an opportunity for a new attack on South Korea.

Rhee Envoy Forced Out In Washington

WASHINGTON (UPI)—South Korea's ambassador You Chang Yang, resigned Tuesday shortly after anti-Rhee elements in Washington's Korean colony threatened to seize the embassy with the aid of Korean military trainees here.

The ambassador acknowledged he received a 24-hour ultimatum to quit or be ousted. It came from Koh Byong-Choll, a long-time leader here of forces opposing Syngman Rhee.

Rebrin Released On $200 Bond

VANCOUVER (CP)—Irene Rebrin, held for two weeks in immigration department quarters under order of deportation, was freed Tuesday for one week on bond of $200. (See also Page 2.)

She must appear in court next Tuesday when Mr. Justice T. G. Norris will bring in his decision on her application for complete release from the department's custody and for an order to have her immigration hearings reviewed by the courts.

She left the courthouse after 8 p.m. Tuesday, more than 3½ hours after the third and final day of court hearings had been adjourned.

Formal signing of the authorization for her release was made in front of the courthouse where Mr. Justice Norris sat in his car, counsel and Miss Rebrin huddled around the car window.

The justice reserved decision on the applications before him but issued a writ of habeas corpus which brings Miss Rebrin under his jurisdiction and makes possible her release on bond.

Bond was set at $200 and it was posted in cash shortly before 8 p.m.

M. & B. Buys Roofing Firm

MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River Ltd. announced yesterday it has purchased 92 per cent of the stock of Sidney Roofing and Paper Company Ltd. in a deal believed to involve more than $18,000,000.

Sidney Roofing, previously owned by Canadian financier Garfield Weston through the E. B. Eddy Company, has total assets of more than $17,000,000.

Observers believe the change in ownership may bring revitalization to Sidney Roofing's Victoria plant which now employs 40 men where it once had 200.

A spokesman for the new owners could not say last night whether the deal would end the gradual transfer of production facilities from Victoria to Burnaby.

Summit May See Nixon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice - President Richard M. Nixon will become the American representative at next month's Paris summit conference if "domestic requirements" force President Eisenhower to return home, the White House said yesterday.

Nixon's presence at the meeting with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev and other world leaders could prove to be a big boost or a big setback to his presidential election chances, depending on the outcome of the summit meeting.

Key congressional Democrats promptly raised the question of the effects of the White House announcement on the political situation.

The White House said in a brief statement that Eisenhower was scheduled to visit Portugal seven days after the summit meeting opens May 16. If the meeting is still underway after his two-day visit, he may return to Paris or be succeeded there by Nixon if forced to return to the United States by "domestic requirements."

Iceland 'Fish War' Will Begin Again

GRIMSBY, England (Reuters) — Trawlermen at this English east coast port prepared Tuesday night for a resumption of the "fish war" with Iceland, following the failure of the Law of the Sea Conference at Geneva. (See Page 5.)

Captain Dennis Welch, president of the Grimsby Trawler Officers' Guild, said:

"This is absolute deadlock. I understand that the British delegation has said that we shall revert to the old four-mile fishing limit off Iceland with the three-mile territorial limit.

"But as the disputed 12-mile limit now is law in Iceland, it means that fishing will go on with naval vessels protecting our ships."

Election Called

Facing first election since his Conservatives swept a long-time Liberal government out of office 3½ years ago, Premier Robert Stanfield of Nova Scotia yesterday set a provincial vote for June 7. Tories hold 24 of the 43 legislature seats, Liberals 18 and CCF one.

Mayor's 'Liar' Crack Costs Him $7,500

MEDICINE HAT (CP) — Mayor Harry Veiner was found guilty Tuesday of defamation of character and ordered to pay damages of $7,500 to Calgary lawyer Melvin Shannon.

The case was heard by Mr. Justice J. V. Milvain of Calgary.

Mr. Shannon's suit followed remarks made by Mayor Veiner at a city council meeting Dec. 7, 1959.

Mr. Justict Milvain said the mayor's action was "most unbecoming and a disgrace to the conduct of a public gathering where democracy is prided."

He added:

"I am completely satisfied that mayor Veiner called Mr. Shannon ... a damn liar ... and those remarks are damaging to the character of the defendant."

He said more damages would have been awarded had Mr. Shannon asked for more.

Reeve Silences Road Department

NORTH VANCOUVER (CP) Reeve Murdo Frazer of North Vancouver district has refused provincial authorities permission to build the Upper Levels Highway outside times set in the municipality's anti-noise bylaw.

The bylaw prohibits disturbing residents by construction work or use of machinery between 8 p.m. and 7 a.m.

The highways department asked the municipality for work after 8 p.m. to allow two eight-hour shifts because construction is several months behind schedule.

Reeve Frazer replied: "The anti-noise bylaw is the law of the municipality and it will stand."

Fill-In Conversion of Rock Bay to Usable Land 'Interesting,' Says Dowell

Plan of the Crowe Gonnason Lumber Co. Ltd. to fill part of Rock Bay and thereby create a larger block of unusued land in the area for commercial or industrial development was described by Acting Mayor Arthur Dowell yesterday as "interesting and worth looking into."

City Engineer James Garnett gave it an even more favorable reception.

"It fits in with city plans, and with certain provisions, I would be glad to see it go through," he said. "We would require a road connecting Store and Rock Bay, and storm drains. But it would fit in extremely well with any one-way street plans we may want to suggest in the future."

The city's long-term planning has included a bridge across the bay linking Rock Bay and Store as a truck route.

The lumber company informed the city yesterday that it wishes to apply to the transport department to acquire the part of the bay east of a line joining Store and Rock Bay, with the object of eventually filling it in.

Consent of the city is necessary because two blind streets end on the bay.

The filled areas would add four acres to Crowe Gonnason's 7½-acre property on Government and Bay. Much of the property is now vacant as the result of a February fire which destroyed the company's closed-down mill.

'University Drive' Suggested

Foul Bay Road No More?

Narrow, broken Foul Bay Road between Fort and Lansdowne may someday become well-paved, attractive University Drive, if a suggestion from Public Works Minister W. N. Chant is followed.

In almost all of that distance, Foul Bay Road is the dividing line between Oak Bay and Saanich, and, Mr. Chant observed yesterday, the two municipalities "don't seem to be able to get together" on improving it.

"It's desperately in need of being improved and brought up to a high standard, and it leads right up to the university," he said.

He suggested that the Capital Improvement District Commission could give consideration to improving the road as another beautification project within its scope, and added, "It could be called University Drive, or something like that."

Chamber To Study Change

A special meeting of the directors of Victoria Chamber of Commerce will be held Thursday to consider a suggestion that the name of Foul Bay Road should be changed to "University Way."

The road leads to the Lansdowne Road property which is part of the present site of Victoria University.

Whole Saanich Force

Pallbearers Brother Policemen

Saanich municipality's entire 21-man police force will be in attendance at a funeral at 3 p.m. today for fellow officer, Constable Robert Kirby, who died in a gun battle Sunday.

Saanich police officials said yesterday that off-duty Victoria police will maintain order in the municipality for a part of the afternoon so the whole Saanich force can attend the rites.

OAK BAY PATROL

An Oak Bay patrol car will look after the Cadboro Bay area.

The funeral, which will take place at Sands funeral home with Rev. J. Rogers officiating, is expected to be one of the largest here in recent years.

On hand will be a 30-man contingent from the Royal Canadian Navy, 40 members of the Victoria force, 12 from the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, plus groups from Oak Bay, Esquimalt and Central Saanich.

SINGLE SHOT

The 31-year-old constable was killed by a single shot from a rifle discharged by an escaped asylum inmate Sunday evening. He will be laid to rest at Royal Oak Burial Park.

Honorary pallbearers will be Saanich Acting Reeve George Austin, police commissioners Stanley Eden and George Askey, Saanich Police Chief W. A. Pearson and Deputy Chief J. R. Hamilton, Victoria Police Chief John Blackstock and Deputy Chief Harry Mercer, Oak Bay Police Chief Robert Smith, Esquimalt Police Chief Gilbert Stancombe, army provost marshal Capt. A. E. Wilson; Saanich prosecutors L. G. McKenzie and Kenneth Murphy.

PALLBEARERS

Pallbearers, all fellow officers from the Saanich force, will be Det. Robin Stewart, Det. George Walton, Juvenile Officer D. E. Anderson, Cpl. Robert Coleman, Cpl. Frank Briers, Const. Charles Trueit.

Following the rites, police and naval contingents will march along Quadra Street to Pembroke where they will embark on buses which will take them to the cemetery.

A Victoria police motorcycle escort will accompany the funeral procession.

Hertel Hopes to Sell Surrey on Zoo Shift

Few Animals Sold; Blaine Alternative

Heads Militia

New commander of 25 Militia Group, Vancouver Island, is Col. L. W. Johnson, 128 Wellington Avenue, Victoria. His new appointment climaxes 39 years of army service. He succeeds Brig. J. S. Adam, head of the militia here for five years.

NANAIMO — Paul Hertel will keep his Nanaimo zoo open until he finds another location or all the animals are sold.

He has been unable to sell many of the animals but has two tentative locations. One is at Surrey, B.C., the other at Blaine, Wash.

The zoo operator returned yesterday from a meeting with Surrey municipal council where, he said, he was well received and will meet again within two weeks.

Hertel is faced with closure May 14 imposed by the B.C. game department because of poor facilities and alleged lack of care to the animals.

"A group of Surrey people invited me to meet the reeve and municipal council to discuss the possibilities of establishing my zoo there," he said.

"I am interested and would do so on several bases," Mr. Hertel said last night at his home.

He said he would operate the zoo for the municipality, set it up himself if at least 50 acres were provided or act simply as an adviser.

"I would much rather move the zoo to Surrey than go to Washington. I have lived in B.C. for 30 years and would like to stay here and I think a good zoo could help the province's tourist industry," Mr. Hertel said.

Mr. Hertel said he was not trying to defy the game department by remaining open but said he had sunk all his money into the zoo to maintain and feed the animals over the past winter.

"The zoo will remain open until I can sell the animals because I can't afford to do anything else.

"I want to make it clear to the papers, I have co-operated with the game department at every turn."

Rate Boost Application Ready Soon

A Greater Victoria water board application to increase water rates in the rural area is being prepared and will be ready for submission to the Public Utilities Commission "probably next week," an offical said yesterday.

The PUC then is expected to set a date by which protests, if any, must be filed.

The water board decided March 30 to make the application to boost water rates about $15 a year for the average customer beyond the borders of Greater Victoria. Earlier, it had increased wholesale water rates for the Greater Victoria municipalities by 30 per cent, and Commissioner Ronald Upward said rural rates must be raised if the "outside" customers were going to pay their fair share of operating and construction costs.

The water board has about 4,000 customers outside Greater Victoria, mostly in the View Royal-Colwood-Langford area.

Canvass Result Unknown

It won't be known for a few days if the residential canvass for the Victoria University building fund was a success—but all indications are favorable.

Fund officials said canvassers have reported sizeable donations and one volunteer worker used up 80 pledge cards, found more householders were interested, then received 50 more cards to continue her calls.

MOP-UP DRIVE

The two-day mop-up canvass, last major operation of the $2,500,000 building fund drive, officially wound up last night but canvassers will make second calls on prospects who wanted time to make up their minds.

Mrs. Daryl Elford, who organized the home canvass, said last night it would be "pure guesswork" to try and assess results at this early stage.

A new draft of a sign bylaw for the city is ready for submission to a special committee early in May, assistant city engineer Roderick Clack said yesterday.

The special committee, including Ald. Rev. J. L. W. McLean and sign company representatives and Mr. Clack, was instructed to work on a new draft after sign companies attacked a previous draft as too restrictive and public works committee "filed" or rejected it.

The new draft, with "a different approach," will be studied by the special committee and then submitted to public works committee for its consideration.

Police Shooting Probe Incomplete

A Saanich police official said yesterday that a probe into all the circumstances surrounding the shooting of a police constable by an escaped mental-home patient on Sunday "is still not complete."

He said that an inquest scheduled for 10 a.m. today will probably be adjourned following formal identification of the body of Constable Robert Norman Kirby, 31, killed by a bullet in the heart.

An adjournment will be requested in order to complete police investigation of the case.

Meanwhile, two provincial departments joined yesterday in ordering full reports on the shooting.

The attorney-general's department and the health services department requested the reports.

Student Reshuffle Forced in Saanich

Overcrowded classrooms in rural Saanich have resulted in a student reshuffle in School District 63 and a shift system for junior high school students.

School board chairman James D. Helps announced yesterday Royal Oak Junior-Senior High School will be made a senior high serving students in the Royal Oak-Mount Newton area. In line with this plan Mount Newton Junior-Senior High School will be made a junior high school for the same area.

At least five extra teachers will be needed to teach the large number of junior high school students in the widespread area.

Classes at the junior high will be placed on a double shift system with complete "school days" in the mornings and afternoons.

At the senior high, where the number of students is not so great, teaching will be carried out on a regular basis.

The new plan will go into effect in September. School officials are still working out details of the school bus system required by the new plan.

It was decided to have the key kept left at the park caretaker's home and a sign erected to inform tennis players of where it might be obtained.

"It is discouraging that we spend the taxpayers' money on improvements only to have this sort of thing happen. Why do they do it? It doesn't prove anything, Mayor Loran Jordon said. Councillor Threatens to Quit — Alberni Mayor 'On Strike'

'Laughing-Stock' Council at Brink?

ALBERNI — A veteran Alberni alderman is considering resigning his seat in protest against the manner in which council meetings are conducted, according to a statement made Monday as dissension reigned in council chambers.

Ald. Fred Bishop announced his idea of resigning and also suggested that his fellow aldermen join him.

REPRIMAND

Mayor Mabel Anderson's refusal to sign minutes of the previous regular meeting touched off a controversy which was highlighted by a mayoral reprimand of the city clerk, Ald. Bishop's suggested resignation and an incident in which council relieved the mayor of the chairmanship of the meeting.

The mayor declared that the minutes of April 11 had misrepresented her contentions in regard to an agreement for purchase of land for the proposed Kitsuksis Creek bridge on Gertrude Street. She had at that time refused to sign the offer of sale although council had authorized the signature.

WOULDN'T SIGN

The minutes were passed as circulated, but the mayor declined to affix her signature. She instructed city clerk Jim Sawyer to amend them according to her instructions. Mr. Sawyer was the object of her reprimand when he declined to do so on the grounds that he must take his instructions from council.

He said that the mayor was making his job most difficult and that his situation was becoming untenable. He was backed up in his statement of being bound by council's instructions in an opinion given by city solicitor R. J. Ohs.

Ald. Bishop accused the mayor of "stalling" negotiations on the bridge and Ald. T. S. Barnett said that Mayor Anderson was neglecting the duty of her office by staging a "sit-down strike."

"This is a serious action and, in my opinion, you are abrogating the oath of your office," he said.

LAUGHING STOCK

The situation is making Alberni council the laughing stock of the country, Ald. Blair declared.

It was only after Ohs, replying to a query from Ald. Bishop, gave the opinion that it is within the powers of the council to adopt the minutes over objections of the mayor, that Mayor Anderson signed the page and business got under way.

The meeting again bogged down when the mayor questioned a $3,000 item in the list of accounts. At a previous meeting, over her protests, council had approved payment of the amount to cover costs of moving a duplex and other expenses connected with the disputed property at the proposed bridge approach.

DEADLINE

The motion for payment of accounts had been proposed and seconded but the vote had not been called when Mayor Anderson announced that the 10 p.m. deadline for conclusion of the meeting had arrived. A motion for extension of time was defeated when the mayor and Ald. Gordon Lundie voted in the negative.

As the meeting adjourned, Ald. Blair commented that no progress had been made since January. Ald. Bishop stated that there is now even more reason for council to consider resigning.

When several persons in the seven-member audience voiced criticism of the manner in which the meeting had been conducted, Mayor Anderson lowered the gavel, declared them out of order and left the room.

China Creek Park Suggestion to B.C.

PORT ALBERNI — Council will present a brief advocating development of China Creek Peninsula as a provincial park when the B.C. cabinet meets here May 10.

A letter from Provincial Secretary Wesley Black informed council Monday the date of the proposed cabinet meeting here had been put forward because of commitments of importance which prevented holding the meeting on the previously arranged date at the end of the month.

MEET IN PRIVATE

The cabinet will meet in private at 10 a.m. to discuss orders-in-council and other provincial business. The letter said that if there were a number of representations to be made to the cabinet members would limit the closed portion of the meeting to a half-hour period. Delegations would be required to submit 14 copies of briefs which they planned to present and to try to complete their submissions within a half-hour.

The council's parks committee was asked to prepare a brief on the China Creek proposal which had previously been broached informally at a meeting with cabinet members.

Mayor Loran Jordon said that, with closure of Smith Landing Park camping grounds, other facilities for overnight camping are needed in the district. He said that in presenting a brief the council would be speaking on behalf of residents of the district as well as for the travelling public.

Council also indicated that attention of Highways Minister P. A. Gaglardi will be drawn to the fact that work on the Stamp Avenue revision is still uncompleted, although Ald. Jack Perry pointed out there had been a definite commitment that the arterial road would be finished in 1957.

A suggestion was made that the city's new four-wheel-drive jeep be used to take Mr. Gaglardi over the stretch of unfinished road.

A dinner at which the city will host the cabinet will be held following the meeting.

Snow Holding Back Unemployment Thaw

DUNCAN—Spring may be here, but snow is still holding back logging operations.

National employment officials state that a few companies still haven't recalled all their men who were laid off several months ago, although the number of jobless dropped from 1,158 to 653.

Another two weeks "at least" will lapse before the logging industry returns to full production, says R. S. Robinson in his monthly report issued yesterday.

Reforestation on high levels is behind schedule. In the lower slopes it is in "full swing" with 72 workers placed with B.C. Forest Service and MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River Ltd.

Because of wet weather in the valley, farmers have not been able to work the land. Business, including real estate and car sales, is improving after the winter slowdown. Twenty-six men are now employed on winter works programs.

Little Leaguers Parading May 7

DUNCAN — Cowichan Little League will hold its annual parade through town marking the start of the season on May 7.

City council has given its approval for city streets to be blocked off by the parade that includes all team members and a "king" and "queen."

The parade will assemble on Brae Road at Trunk at 11.30 a.m. It leaves at noon and travels through town on a half-mile route to Pioneer Park.

★ ★ ★

Mayor Jack Dobson will discuss with North Cowichan Reeve Donald Morton the need to cover a large ditch near the tennis courts in Pioneer Park.

City fathers feel there is no other ditch that needs tiling more "urgently." The park is a joint development.

Municipal councillors have expressed the opinion that "a great many ditches" need tiling more than the park ditch.

★ ★ ★

City crews completed construction of a fence around the children's pool in Pioneer Park yesterday.

It was built because of the need to lock it off after the lifeguard leaves and so dogs cannot get near water.

★ ★ ★

City council has authorized the spending of $1,650 to buy a large power mower from Bert Groves Sales and Service, only local outlet handling a specific make.

No tenders were called because council felt it was better to buy a brand, rather than by price.

Upper-Island Festival Draws 3,000

NANAIMO — Almost 3,000 persons will participate in the 1960 week-long Upper Island music festival here next week.

There are 540 entries in the festival that includes classes for everything from accordion to xylophone. The entries come from Victoria to Campbell River.

"And the sad part of it is the participants usually outnumber the audience," said Joe Bertram, president of the festival.

During the week all evening performances will start at 7.30 p.m.

Adjudicators will be Boris Roubakine, Toronto Conservatory of Music; Stanley Hoban, Victoria; Miss Gay Scrivenor, New Westminster, and Mrs. Myrtle Davidson, White Rock.

The Way of the Worry-Free

There's the high road and the low road — many are the lanes that lead from here to there.

The anxious road. The fretful road. The hazardous road — the rough and the smooth, the swift and the adventurous.

And there are those who think of all of these when they plan to go from here to there.

Ask the venturer who leaves his car behind why he rides with Canadian National Railways. Invariably you will find his reason in these half-dozen simple words — it's the way of the worry-free.

Luxury, restfulness. Quiet and roomy comfort. The courteous, the gracious air — all of these are there.

But beyond these is assurance.

It is this, contrasted with the teeming and relentless traffic of today's highways, that is making a growing number of motorists say — "when it's over 100 miles, I take the train."

EXPERTS DEMAND COLQUITZ PROBE

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Kirby Fund Tops $2,000 Expected to Go Higher

The fund to aid the young widow and four children of Saanich Const. Robert Kirby, who was shot to death Sunday, skyrocketed yesterday.

The fund passed the $2,000 mark by last night and is expected to go still higher before it is ended. As a member of Saanich police department, Const. Kirby was covered by a $5,000 insurance policy. (See also Page 13.)

Mental Home 'More a Jail'

Colquitz mental hospital is "more jail than institution," organizer of a group of women volunteers, who visit inmates weekly, charged here last night as a call was raised to investigate the institution's entire treatment program—not just security measures.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Edith Frankham said that during her weekly visits in the past six months she found no evidence of a treatment program at Colquitz where an inmate escaped Sunday touching off a gun battle in which a policeman died and a guard was wounded. (See also Page 13.)

Head of the volunteer visitors program, which she started in October, she recently stepped down as president of the Victoria branch, Canadian Mental Health Association, after two years.

Her comments were made following a statement in Vancouver by J. D. Ward, executive secretary of the B.C. division, Canadian Mental Health Association, who said, "It's time we decided whether Colquitz is a hospital or a jail."

MRS. EDITH FRANKHAM

EXTEND STUDY

Mr. Ward called on authorities investigating shooting Sunday of Saanich police Const. Ronald Kirby by an inmate to extend their study to institution's entire treatment program — not just security measures.

"There isn't any treatment program, as far as I can ascertain," said Mrs. Frankham.

She said the mental hospital is located in an "old jail" building which has been pressed into service for inmates who "haven't responded to treatment in centres on the mainland."

SIX TO EIGHT

She said six to eight women volunteers go out to Colquitz every week to play cards and bingo with inmates. The women bring cakes and special treats for the occasions.

Despite some "trepidation and uneasiness" on the part of the volunteers at first, and the suspicious attitude adopted by most inmates, the program has worked out "very well," said Mrs. Frankham.

ACCEPTED

"It took a while," she said, "but we have been accepted as friends who are there because we want to come."

Mr. Ward said: "We are only asking for trouble when we maintain institutions like Colquitz and call them hospitals.

"The condition of patients who enter this barren setting —with its cells and its windows 14 feet above the floor —is more likely to grow worse than improve."

ONLY $28

He said only $28 per patient was spent for medical care in the entire year ending March 31, 1959. This compared with Essondale and Crease Clinic, also provincially-operated, which had respective totals of $225 and $631 per patient year.

Const. Kirby was stopped in his tracks by a .22 calibre rifle bullet through the heart as he pursued the inmate, Raymond Harold, in bushland some distance from the institution.

Harold also wounded guard Frank Goad in the shoulder before himself being felled by a police bullet in the leg.

MUCH DEEPER

Mr. Ward said the trouble at Colquitz "goes much deeper" than Saanich police chief W. A. Pearson indicated when he charged laxity in security at the institution.

"There's no point in merely blaming the government," he said.

"It has been proven time and again that bars are not needed at mental hospitals where there is sufficient staff and an effective treatment program."

He said incidents like the one Sunday are likely to recur as long as hospitals like Colquitz continue to exist, and said a study now under way would be a waste of time unless the entire treatment program is examined by competent people.

Mrs. Frankham said she agreed fully with the statements by Mr. Ward. But she added the public must accept part of the blame. "The public is apathetic, unaware, disinterested, and as long as the majority of people remain in that state patients will be put in places like Colquitz," she said.

BEST CLOTHES

Inmates at Colquitz have blossomed out in their best clothes, clean-shaven, and wearing ties for the weekly visits by volunteers. Most play cards and bingo with "gusto and enthusiasm" after losing their initial suspicions.

Mrs. Frankham said Harold was "always cheerful, with a smile and a big hello" when the visitors came, and it was a shock to those who knew and liked him to read of Sunday's incident.

Korea to Vote Before Aug. 1

SEOUL (AP)—Syngman Rhee, founder of the Republic of Korea, resigned as president today after six weeks of violent public demonstrations against his autocratic rule.

Foreign Minister Huh Chung, senior member of the government, announced after a two-hour conference with the 85-year-old president that Rhee had sent his formal resignation to the national assembly.

PROMPT ACTION

The assembly was expected to accept it promptly.

Rhee ended his 12 years of power after weeks of mounting violence arising from charges of fraud in the March 15 presidential elections.

CARETAKER

After the resignation is accepted, a caretaker government will take over until elections for president, vice-president and national assembly can be held within three months, before Aug. 1.

Huh, as ranking member of the cabinet, will head the caretaker regime.

Huh is a 62-year-old independent and former acting premier.

SENIOR MAN

Rhee named him senior man in a new cabinet this week after a cabinet from the president's Liberal party resigned. Vice-President John Chang, leader of the anti-Rhee Democratic party, resigned last week. He is considered a likely candidate for the presidency.

HUGE RIOTS

To end the huge, anti-government demonstrations in which at least 145 persons had died in the last week, Rhee Tuesday ordered new elections, told vice-president Lee Ki-poong to give up all his public posts and said he would himself resign if the people wanted him to.

TUMULTUOUS

A tumultuous 26 hours of steady rioting and demonstrations ended at curfew time Tuesday after more than 100,000 Koreans crowded Seoul streets, celebrating Rhee's announcement.

Today the city of 2,000,000 persons resumed something of a normal appearance.

CO-OPERATING

Leaders of the historic upheaval were co-operating with the South Korean Army to bring order back to the troubled nation.

Students replaced Rhee's hated national police in directing traffic in much of Seoul.

14 Nations Rebuke Korea

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Representatives of 14 nations that fought in Korea under the UN flag called Tuesday for early action to "permit the orderly functioning of democratic government" in South Korea.

A statement issued after a 90-minute meeting of the representatives at the State Department came in the wake of U.S. appeals to Syngman Rhee to "redress the grievances of the Korean people" against his government.

South Africa boycotted the conference. South Korea was not invited.

All the diplomats were said to have been aware of the danger that North Korea might use the anti-Rhee riots as an opportunity for a new attack on South Korea.

Rhee Envoy Forced Out In Washington

WASHINGTON (UPI)—South Korea's ambassador You Chang Yang resigned Tuesday shortly after anti-Rhee elements in Washington's Korean colony threatened to seize the embassy with the aid of Korean military trainees here.

The ambassador acknowledged he received a 24-hour ultimatum to quit or be ousted. It came from Koh Byong-Choll, a long-time leader here of forces opposing Syngman Rhee.

Rebrin Released On $200 Bond

VANCOUVER (CP)—Irene Rebrin, held for two weeks in immigration department quarters under order of deportation, was freed Tuesday for one week on bond of $200. (See also Page 2.)

She must appear in court next Tuesday when Mr. Justice T. G. Norris will bring in his decision on her application for complete release from the department's custody and for an order to have her immigration hearings reviewed by the courts.

She left the courthouse after 8 p.m. Tuesday, more than 3½ hours after the third and final day of court hearings had been adjourned.

Formal signing of the authorization for her release was made in front of the courthouse where Mr. Justice Norris sat in his car, counsel and Miss Rebrin huddled around the car window.

The justice reserved decision on the applications before him but issued a writ of habeas corpus which brings Miss Rebrin under his jurisdiction and makes possible her release on bond.

Bond was set at $200 and it was posted in cash shortly before 8 p.m.

M. & B. Buys Roofing Firm

MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River Ltd. announced yesterday it has purchased 92 per cent of the stock of Sidney Roofing and Paper Company Ltd. in a deal believed to involve more than $18,000,000.

Sidney Roofing, previously owned by Canadian financier Garfield Weston through the E. B. Eddy Company, has total assets of more than $17,000,000.

Observers believe the change in ownership may bring revitalization to Sidney Roofing's Victoria plant which now employs 40 men where it once had 200.

A spokesman for the new owners could not say last night whether the deal would end the gradual transfer of production facilities from Victoria to Burnaby.

Polio Strikes In Nanaimo

Summit May See Nixon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice-President Richard M. Nixon will become the American representative at next month's Paris summit conference if "domestic requirements" force President Eisenhower to return home, the White House said yesterday.

Nixon's presence at the meeting with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev and other world leaders could prove to be a big boost or a big setback to his presidential election chances, depending on the outcome of the summit meeting.

Key congressional Democrats promptly raised the question of the effects of the White House announcement on the political situation.

The White House said in a brief statement that Eisenhower was scheduled to visit Portugal seven days after the summit meeting opens May 16. If the meeting is still underway after his two-day visit, he may return to Paris or be succeeded there by Nixon if forced to return to the United States by "domestic requirements."

Iceland 'Fish War' Will Begin Again

GRIMSBY, England (Reuters) — Trawlermen at this English east coast port prepared Tuesday night for a resumption of the "fish war" with Iceland, following the failure of the Law of the Sea Conference at Geneva. (See Page 5.)

Captain Dennis Welch, president of the Grimsby Trawler Officers' Guild, said:

"This is absolute deadlock. I understand that the British delegation has said that we shall revert to the old four-mile fishing limit off Iceland with the three-mile territorial limit.

"But as the disputed 12-mile limit now is law in Iceland, it means that fishing will go on with naval vessels protecting our ships."

Election Called

Facing first election since his Conservatives swept a long-time Liberal government out of office 3½ years ago, Premier Robert Stanfield of Nova Scotia yesterday set a provincial vote for June 7. Tories hold 24 of the 43 legislature seats, Liberals 18 and CCF one.

Mayor's 'Liar' Crack Costs Him $7,500

MEDICINE HAT (CP) — Mayor Harry Veiner was found guilty Tuesday of defamation of character and ordered to pay damages of $7,500 to Calgary lawyer Melvin Shannon.

The case was heard by Mr. Justice J. V. Milvain of Calgary.

Mr. Shannon's suit followed remarks made by Mayor Veiner at a city council meeting Dec. 7, 1959.

Mr. Justict Milvain said the mayor's action was "most unbecoming and a disgrace to the conduct of a public gathering where democracy is prided."

He added:

"I am completely satisfied that mayor Veiner called Mr. Shannon . . . a damn liar . . . and those remarks are damaging to the character of the defendant."

He said more damages would have been awarded had Mr. Shannon asked for more.

Won't Fight Says Nehru

Reeve Silences Road Department

NORTH VANCOUVER (CP) —Reeve Murdo Frazer of North Vancouver district has refused B.C. authorities permission to build the Upper Levels Highway outside times set in the municipality's anti-noise bylaw.

The bylaw prohibits disturbing residents by construction work or use of machinery between 8 p.m. and 7 a.m.

The highways department asked the municipality for work after 8 p.m. to allow two eight-hour shifts because construction is several months behind schedule.

Reeve Frazer replied: "The anti-noise bylaw is the law of the municipality and it will stand."
